BIG DEAL.

HARRIMAN BUYING.

Pan-American His Acquisition.

Ambassador Thompson Pays Ten Millions Gold for Railroad.

Will Resign Post and Become Resident of Mexico to Run Line.

System to Be Turned Over to Magnate Who Will Improve.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Your correspondent has confirmed the report that David E. Thompson, United States Ambassador to Mexico, has bought for approximately $10,000,000 gold, the Pan-American Railroad, and as owner of the only line running from the north to the Central American border, will remain in this republic permanently, though only last month he announced his intention to resign his diplomatic post.

Strenuous efforts have been made to cover up this deal; officials deny it; but there is the best of evidence that the trade has been made.

The Pan-American, including a number of short branches, is 478 kilometers, or about 298 miles long. The main line extends from Gamboa, in the State of Oaxaca, across the Tehuantepec Isthmus country to Mariscal, on the Guatemala border, opposite which terminus, across the Suchiate River, is the flourishing Central American city of Ayutla. This main line is 457 kilometers or about 286 miles in length.

Building toward Ayutla is the Guatemala City Northern Railroad, owned by the Hubbard interests of New York, which is now finished to a point within twenty-five miles of that city. With the completion of this line it will require the mere spanning of the river to effect railway connections from the western extremity of the Pan-American to the capital of this Central American republic.

INTEREST TO LOS ANGELES.

Consummation of this deal is of peculiar interest to Los Angeles for the reason that D. P. Doak, present president of the Pan-American, is a citizen of Los Angeles, while other heavy stockholders in the former régime are J. M. Neeland and E. Smith. To those three belonged control of the line, most of the former minority stockholders also being Americans.

By purchase outright, Ambassador Thompson has taken over $9,500,000 of the total capitalization of $10,000,000. The transfer is entirely in his own name, but it is understood among inner circles that a coterie of St. Louis millionaires are associated with the diplomat in the transaction, and that the ultimate plan is a turning over of the entire system to Harriman, as a part of the chain to extend continuously from British Columbia to Central America.

Though railroad men conversant with local conditions have realized since the Pan-American was built, about a year ago, that it must in time become a most profitable and important factor in the commerce of this country, opportunities for great gains have necessarily been passed by on account of the owners' shortage of funds for development and improvement. The road was built on a figurative shoestring, and has been operated upon a hand-to-mouth basis, by no fault of the management, but rather on account of the money stringency, which reached its climax about the time the isthmus line needed ready funds the most. Even under such adverse conditions, the road has paid well and has proved beyond reasonable cavil that there are millions to be reaped from its future operation upon a more generous scale.

TO RESIGN OFFICE.

On July 2, Ambassador Thompson authorized the Mexico Daily Record, one of this city's newspapers published in English, to state his decision to resign his diplomatic office, to take effect on or before January 1, 1910, intimating that personal business might hasten the date. It is now taken for granted that this personal business to which reference was made was the Pan-American transaction just brought to a successful issue, and it is admitted that the principal to the deal has been busy in the working out of its details for many months. This is Ambassador Thompson's first venture into the railroad field, except for some minor positions held in the operative department of the Burlington when he was a young man, at Lincoln, Neb.

SURGEON IS WRECK HERO.

Sends Lifeboat to Rescue Another While He Sinks and Is Lost.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Details of the sinking of the tug Nezinscot, received at the Navy Department today, tell a story of heroism and self-sacrifice on the part of Acting Assistant Surgeon C. E. Trotter.

He was exhausted and had just called for help from the lifeboat, when Machinist Belfric was seen clinging to another piece of wreckage.

"Save him first," cried Trotter.

The lifeboat was rowed over to Belfric, who was fainting when picked up. Then they turned to save Trotter, only to find the bare spar. Trotter had gone down.

GETTING DOWN TO FACTS.

PRESIDENT TAKES UP PINCHOT CONTROVERSY.

L. S. Glavis, Land Agent at Seattle, Has Placed Before President Charges That Cause Call for Report From Interior Department.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The President has called on the Interior Department to furnish all the information it has concerning the case of the Cunningham syndicate. The officials of the department have been placed on the defensive, and the issue between Secretary Ballinger and Chief Forester Pinchot will, it is thought, quickly reach a crisis. Acting Secretary Pierce declined to discuss the situation further than to admit that the President has called for a report and to say that it will be promptly made.

Commissioner of the General Land Office Dennett, who has just returned from a trip through the West, and Asst. Atty.-Gen. Lawler were in conference today with acting Secretary Pierce, who was at work on the report. These officials express confidence that when the department's side is presented the public will be satisfied with the action taken. The air is full of rumors of possible scandals of great magnitude. The Cunningham case promises to develop to the discomfiture of one of the two warring factions in public service. The friends of Mr. Pinchot expect his complete vindication and predict that as other cases and issues are met and disposed of he will be fully sustained.

GLAVIS CALLED TO BEVERLY.

L. S. Glavis, field agent of the land office at Seattle, was quietly called to Beverly last week and laid before the President charges seriously reflecting upon officials in the Interior Department. In response to an order direct from Beverly, acting Secretary Pierce, Mr. Dennett and H. P. Schwartz, chief of the field inspection service, have been busy preparing a report upon the Glavis charges.

While these charges are not made public, their effect is that the Interior Department's official action has impeded his efforts effectively to frame a case which will recover the coal claims from the Cunningham interests and restore them to the government as a part of the policy of conservation of natural resources inaugurated by the Roosevelt administration and indorsed by President Taft. The case has been much commented upon by reason of the fact that Secretary Ballinger, before entering the Cabinet on March 4, was attorney for the Cunningham interests. For that reason he has not acted personally upon the case, but turned it over to Assistant Secretary Pierce.

BALLINGER TO REPORT.

Secretary Ballinger will arrive in Seattle tomorrow and it is understood here he will also make a report to President Taft on the Glavis charges.

This is the first instance that has required President Taft's personal inquiry, but he is resolved to get at the facts of the controversy which began to attract attention when the government Forester, Gifford Pinchot, and his friends began to assail the Ballinger administration as calculated to wreck the Roosevelt conservation policy. In a dispatch under a Beverly

HARRIMAN FORTIFIED IN RURAL FASTNESS.

Railway Magnate Is Barred From All Business and All Visitors, While Wall Street Gambles on What Rumors Are to Be Had.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Two thousand feet above the sea level at his country estate near Arden, N. Y., Edward H. Harriman is resting tonight. Shielded from business cares, barred from visitors, he disappeared from the public eye in a manner no less dramatic than his display of grit upon his arrival from Europe yesterday.

It was announced at the Union Pacific offices that he was resting quietly, and by telephone to Arden it was learned that there was no change in his condition.

Mr. Harriman has retired in the truest sense, for his "after cure," and nothing is to disturb him.

Just as the country eagerly read the cables from abroad concerning the financier's health, and bought or sold stocks accordingly, so it has gone on since the brief glance at him yesterday. Uneasiness was strongly reflected today in the stock market.

With a weak opening Union Pacific and Southern Pacific, together with New York Central, now classed as a Harriman stock, underwent declines at the outset under rather heavy selling orders.

Firmness followed the first losses, but it was only temporary and was followed by even greater declines as trading continued, and by noon nearly all active stocks were off from 2¼ to 5 points.

Bear operators made capital of his interview of yesterday indicating that improvements rather than dividends would be his aim.

Substantial gains were recorded as the afternoon wore on, but the pressure on Harriman stocks made the close irregular. Trading was not in a remarkably large volume, but at 2 o'clock 300,000 shares had been sold.

With Mr. Harriman's permanent retirement from the active management of his railroads, considered at least a possibility, many pick Judge Robert S. Lovett, general counsel for the Harriman lines, as his successor. This is mere gossip.

Judge Lovett is a native of San Jacinto, Texas, and began his career by entering the railroad legal field in 1884, he became general counsel for the Southern Pacific in Texas. When Mr. Harriman took over the road he picked Judge Lovett as a man of ability and has since advanced him rapidly.

HARRIMAN WAKES IN HILLTOP HOME.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

ARDEN (N. Y.) Aug. 25.—When E. H. Harriman awoke this morning, he, for the first time, surveyed the matchless view of the Ramapo Valley from his magnificent new home, perched on a peak 2500 feet above sea level. It was dusk when he arrived last night, electric lights were burning and he could get no view of the thousands of acres of mountain scenery which he has acquired.

Although a small army of reporters remained near to the great stone mansion, which is the nucleus of a $2,000,000 estate, all night, the private electric lighting plant was shut down soon after 10 o'clock and darkness in Mr. Harriman's suite of rooms indicated that the financier and railroad magnate had retired.

Efforts to obtain an official statement from Mr. Harriman's physicians as to his exact condition or his prospects of recovery have failed. Dr. Lyle, the financier's chief physician, stated that the family did not desire him to make such a statement. There is little doubt, however, that financial circles have been largely reassured by Mr. Harriman's buoyant spirits on his arrival from Europe yesterday and by his eagerness to talk with reporters and by his frankness.

Mr. Harriman would have talked with the newspaper men all the way from Jersey City to Arden in his private car had not his companions objected. Even on reaching his country estate, he seemed eager to speak for publication and the lightness of his spirits had been diminished in no way

BRIEF THRILL FOR GOTHAM.

VANDERBILT SHOT IS HOAX ON CORONER.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Thursday, Aug. 26.—New York was startled shortly after midnight this morning by a report which originated from some unknown source and was communicated to the Coroner's office that Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt had been shot at the Grand Union Hotel at Forty-second street and Park avenue.

The clerk, who received the mysterious information by telephone, notified Coroner Shrady, who immediately started for Bellevue Hospital, where it was understood Mr. Vanderbilt had been taken. Before going, however, the Coroner telephoned Bellevue and learned that Mr. Vanderbilt was not there. Subsequently inquiry at the Grand Union Hotel showed that there had been no shooting there last evening.

The clerk at the hotel said that the first intimation that he had of any shooting came through an inquiry from a New York newspaper. This was followed quickly by inquiries from nearly every other newspaper in the city, which, in the meantime, had received the report.

It had been duped and as the Grand Union Hotel appeared quiet and normal when the reporters arrived it was seen that there had been a mistake.

Clinching this fact, came a laconic telephone message from one who said he was Mr. Vanderbilt, who called up the Coroner's office and casually remarked:

"I understand I have been shot."

He was told such a report was in circulation and that the Coroner was trying to learn where it originated.

The man called the Coroner's office and said he was Mr. Vanderbilt and was talking at the time from the New York Club.

Mr. Vanderbilt later was found, safe, sound and asleep at the Hotel Plaza and the whole affair resolves itself into a "joke."

It was also ascertained that Mr. Vanderbilt was not a member of the New York Club and consequently had not called up from there, assuring the Coroner's office that he was all right. Evidently the person who started the report desired to call it off after he had gotten the police, the Coroner's PAULHAM BEATS WRIGHT RECORD.

REMAINS IN AIR LONGER, COVERS GREATER DISTANCE.

Plucky French Aviator Breaks Two World's Records at Rheims, Fighting Heavy Rain and Windstorm During Part of Flight—Dirigible Flows Into Sight.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BETHENY AVIATION FIELD (Rheims) Aug. 25.—Another sensational exploit was added to the marvels of aviation week today, when Paulham, the plucky French aviator, broke the world's record in a wonderful flight of two hours and fifty-three minutes, twenty-four seconds. During twenty minutes of the time Paulham had a heavy rain and windstorm to contend with.

The previous official record for time in the air was made by Wilbur Wright at Lemans, December 31, two hours, twenty minutes, twenty-three and one-fifth seconds. The unofficial record was two hours, twenty-seven minutes, twenty-five seconds, made by Sommer at Marmellous.

Paulham's new record for distance was about 134 kilometers, or eighty-three miles. He made thirteen circuits of the course, and the wind squall passed as he was coming down the home stretch for the last time.

Simultaneously the dirigible Colonel Renard appeared to the westward, plowing its way majestically through the smoke of the city of Rheims.

When Paulham finally came down, it was because the fifty-six liters of essence which he carried in his tank was exhausted. He said the machine and the self-cooling motor had stood up perfectly, and that it could have continued indefinitely if the tank had been replenished.

GLORIOUS FUTURE.

No one who witnessed the flight now entertains the slightest doubt that aerial navigation with heavier-than-air machines has a glorious future.

Starting in a twelve-knot breeze shortly before 4 o'clock, with the avowed intention of completing the fifty kilometers before 5 o'clock to beat his less venturesome rivals, who desired to await calmer air, Paulham not only accomplished his original purpose, but continued to circle the vast plain until his tank was empty. Thirteen times he made the circuit.

Even when a shower, accompanied by a high wind, suddenly broke, the pilot did not falter. He battled in the teeth of the rain and wind for ten minutes up one length of the course, and the thrilled spectators watched the struggle against the elements in spellbound admiration. When he succeeded in rounding the turn, the excitement and enthusiasm broke into a frenzied roar.

Going down on the wings of the wind, Paulham made up for the time lost in fighting against it. Fortunately, the storm was brief. As the time approached when it was evident that he would beat the Wright record, the excitement was intense and the crowds rushed out of the tribunes each time he passed, cheering and shouting words of encouragement.

As Paulham, in turn, broke the time and distance records, the jubilation of the spectators was beyond description. The Americans joined the French and other foreigners in paying tribute.

Exhibition flights meanwhile were being given by Sommer, Leblanc, Latham, Rougier, Tissandier, Blériot, Gobron and Bunau-Varilla, and although they offered a wonderfully impressive sight, they were almost forgotten in the intensity of interest as to how far Paulham would go.

Shortly, Paulham descended near the back turn, and announced that the committee had granted him permission to replenish his tank on the field to permit his return with his own power.

While they waited Glenn H. Curtiss, the American aviator, got his machine for an effort to beat Blériot's time of yesterday and he made a fast round, lowering his own time for the 4 1-5 miles to 8 minutes 11 3-5 seconds, only 7 1-5 seconds behind that of Blériot.

It was dark when a great cheer arose as Paulham descended gracefully in front of the tribunes. The fence was torn down in the rush to reach him and he was borne on the shoulders of some of the most enthusiastic among the spectators, the crowd escorting him to the box of the Marquis de Polignac, president of the Committee on Aviation, to receive congratulations and to have his health drunk on champagne.

In the midst of the mad enthusiasm, Paulham's eye rested on a face in the crowd below. Instantly he stretched out his arms and turning he broke his way through the throng in the tribune, a moment later throwing himself into the arms of his wife. His mother and father also were there to embrace and to weep, and finally Admiral Talks of Son's Death.

Eaton Denies Charges That He Killed His Only Child With Poison.

Says Accusation Been Made So Often Was Joke, Then Became Tragedy.

Boy's Mother Reiterates Belief, Alleges Husband Is Insane.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON (Mass.) Aug. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "My wife and [illegible] girl June have accused me of attempting to poison them so many times that the accusation, after a while, lost its weight and became merely a joke, and then the joke became a tragedy," declared Rear-Admiral Joseph [illegible] Eaton, U.S.N., today as he talked of the death of his little boy and of his wife's charges that he had poisoned his own son.

"Her latest accusations are cruel, but they have lost their power to hurt. As for June, the little girl believes she has reasons. I think she has believed that reasons existed for all the charges she has made against me during the last three years.

"So many times has she charged me with attempting her life that after a time little Dorothy began to joke with me about it.

"'Look,' she would cry, running to me, and crooking her little finger when June would meet with some trifling mishap, 'June has been poisoned.'"

Dorothy is the admiral's twelve-year-old stepdaughter, the daughter of [illegible] woman who has made the [illegible] charges. She has stuck by the warrior, ridiculing her mother's accusations and reiterating her belief in her stepfather.

"The little boy," that is the way the admiral always speaks of the dead baby, "the little boy is dead and had hoped that he would live. I had hoped to see him enter the navy.

"But if my baby has been poisoned," he declared after he had said this, and directly that he would insist that the investigation of the baby's stomach at the Harvard medical school be thorough, and that the result be given the widest publicity, "if my baby has been poisoned, there is a thought that comes to me so horrible that I dare not speak it—not in connection with any of my household, but, if I thought such people lived"—and there he stopped.

"My wife declares that she, at one time, found poison tablets in her room. I remember that incident well. She had been ill, complaining of a sore throat, and I gave her several chlorate of potash tablets. A little later she accused me of having tried to poison her. I insisted on calling in a physician. When he came I told him of the circumstances and asked Mrs. Eaton to show him the tablets.

"She would not do so but continued to repeat that an effort had been made to poison her; that she knew the tablets were poison.

"MY ONLY CHILD."

"Does the charge that I attempted to poison her and June by means of poisoned perfumery or tooth powder sound sensible? It is absurd. As for the boy, he was my own child, my only one. For days at a time little Dorothy and I have taken care of him during the absence of his mother and June. Once they were away for fourteen days and Dorothy and I washed him and him and dressed him.

"As for June, I have tried to care for her as if she were my own daughter. She is an imaginative child and a great reader of romantic fiction.

"June was always a harem scarem sort of girl. Once it became necessary for me to enjoin a 60-year-old man from paying her attentions. She did not like me for that."

Seen this afternoon at her cottage and informed of the interview quoted above, Mrs. Eaton said that she would at once begin steps to have the admiral examined as to his sanity, basing such action on his alleged actions for the last three years.

She laid his trouble to hard drinking.

Mrs. Eaton reiterated her previous statement that she had found what she believed to be poison in a vase placed there by some unknown person.

Socialist Publishes Article Showing Russian Ruler Is Kept Posted by Police.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BERLIN, Aug. 25.—Der Voerwaerts, the leading socialist organ, prints an article by the Russian socialist, Burtzeff, who unmasked the Russian spy Azeff, which is designed to correct the impression prevailing outside of Russia that the Russian Emperor is well acquainted with the objectionable methods and acts of the Russian secret police.

Burtzeff gives a facsimile [illegible] of the so-called "Journal of the Czar," consisting of brief summaries of information prepared by the police department solely for the monarch's eye.

Burtzeff declares that through a secret channel, he was enabled thoroughly to examine three volumes of the journal which show, he says, that Emperor Nicholas is fully informed of everything going on in the pol

PRESIDENT ON POSTAL BANKS.

Next Message to Congress May Urge Plan.

Money Could Be Used to Take Up Bonds.

Scheme Would Afford Assurance to Timid Persons.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BEVERLY (Mass.) Aug. 25.—President Taft indicated in talks with callers today that in his message to Congress next December he will strongly urge the early establishment of postal savings banks.

President Taft believes several hundred millions of dollars will be placed at the government's disposal through postal savings banks. It is suggested that this money might well be employed in taking up the $500,000,000 of $700,000,000 outstanding government 2 per cent. bonds which have given much concern to the Treasury Department officials. Already the bonds are selling below par and there is fear of further depression.

The President believes the postal banks would appeal to timid persons who are afraid to trust the ordinary banks and who would rather get the small interest the government would pay than place the money in the regular savings banks.

By placing the interest to be allowed by the postal banks at less than 2 per cent. Mr. Taft is convinced that no harm would be done to ordinary banks of commerce, for discriminating persons would not withdraw deposits drawing high interest and place them under government care at half the interest offered by the ordinary savings banks.

President Taft expressed himself as unalterably opposed to a guarantee of bank deposits. He declared he did not believe in making one set of bankers responsible for another set.

Tomorrow the President will confer with Senator Aldrich, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, and Secretary MacVeagh. Postal banks will have a share in the discussion.

President Taft had a long talk today with Amos P. Wilder, American Consul-General at Shanghai, China, and discussed with him the opportunities for extending American trade in that empire.

Harriman Interests Start Grading for Douglas-Courtland Connection, to Parallel Southwestern.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) Aug. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In warring against the Phelps-Dodge Company lines in Arizona, the Harriman interests have started actual work of grading for construction of a line from Courtland to this place. One train of the four which is conveying Grant Brothers' construction outfit from Tepic, Mex., where work has been completed on the Southern Pacific, has already reached Douglas.

Grant Brothers have eighty mules and a small army of men and hundreds of scrapers and plows. Eight cars of grain have been shipped in by the Southern Pacific, while stores of all kinds are being sent in for the men. The outfit is capable of grading two miles of track a day.

The Southern Pacific now has a line into Courtland, as has the Southwestern, the Phelps-Dodge Company. The Harriman interests will parallel the Phelps-Dodge line from Courtland to Douglas and thence to Bisbee. From Bisbee a line will be constructed parallel to the Southwestern to Naco, Ariz., giving the Southern Pacific an outlet for its line into Naco from Cananea, Mex.

Under present conditions the Southern Pacific divides traffic with the Southwestern on Douglas and Bisbee business into Cananea, but by building from Courtland to Douglas and connecting this line with the Naco outlet the Southern Pacific will have a coast line by the way of Cochise into these rich mining camps.

WINDSOR COMPANY HURT.

Joyce Loan Scandal Causes Loss of Business and Investigating Committee Is Named.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Theodore P. Shonts and August Heckscher, directors of the Windsor Trust Company, have been appointed a committee of two to investigate the circumstances surrounding the recent $50,000 Joyce loan and report back to the board of directors what action is best to take in the matter.

Mr. Shonts and Mr. Heckscher were appointed this afternoon during the course of a meeting of the directors of the Windsor Trust Company, which lasted from 12:30 until 2 o'clock. The meeting was largely attended.

Immediately after the board of directors adjourned the committee met in the bond room of the Windsor Trust Company. Neither of the two members would make any statement regarding their plans of action. For more than two weeks the company has suffered a steady and material loss of its public business because of the scandal hanging over it. This could have been averted, in the opinion of several directors, had fair methods been employed by the management in dealing with the matter.

The directors discussed the question of the Windsor's liability to Matthew M. Joyce for the return of his copper stocks or their money value, less the $50,000 loan. It is understood the investigating committee will decide whether the company shall make restitution or fight the matter in the civil courts.

Comic Opera Star Wants Marriage Annulled on Ground It Brought Bad Luck.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Helen Byron, who made a hit in comic opera, said today she was going to ask an annulment of her marriage to R. A. Roberts, theatrical manager, whom she lived with ten days.

Miss Byron, discussing the matter today, said:

"He's more than negligent as a husband; he's a Jonah, a hoodoo. I'm no more than ordinarily superstitious, but when right after we were married and my mother and I were on our way to Highlands, N. Y., to look up a country place I've since bought, our car was No. 13, the peanut boy was cross-eyed, we broke an umbrella, lost half a dozen things, stepped on a toad, were chased by a bull and walked under a ladder that was placed so we couldn't help it. I sat up and took notice, for I'd been warned about Roberts before I married him."

"MASHERS" ARE MASHED.

"Lady Killers" Get Their Deserts When Patrolman Gets Busy With Club—Two Arrested.

That loud, rumbling noise last night was not the Pacific Electric building falling down; it was only the signal announcing that "mashing" along Main street was going out of fashion "on the jump."

For some time past, complaints have been reaching police headquarters. Young men made it a practice to gather along the sidewalks, principally about the entrance to the poolroom between Fifth and Sixth streets, ogling and insulting women passing by. The "lady killers" were wary enough to keep out of trouble for a long time, that is, up to last night. No girl had an eye so bright that it outshone for them the star of a policeman a block away. They could look right over a peach-basket hat and spot any officer before he got to within 200 yards of them.

Last night, Lieut. Williams gave the case, as a special job, to Patrolman Mack, in plain clothes. Mack got right into the bunch as one of the near-by theaters was dismissing its patrons. The "mashers" were in high fettle and started in for a jolly good time.

Then Mack lost control. His billy went straight out to the nearest of the offenders, a rousing kick started another going, and two were collared and hauled to the station, where they gave their names as E. Beauregard and C. O. Lafrican. The police also captured a hat, which is at the station, awaiting a claimant. The owner was last seen shooting down Main street in a style that would make that Rheims entertainment look like a country fair.

HILL TALKS AT WINNIPEG.

Says Northwest Offers Only Opening Now for Tide of Americans Westward.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WINNIPEG (Man.) Aug. 25.—"Don't be afraid you won't get people. There is no other place on the American continent where they can go. But don't try to get people who will have to be recivilized."

Thus said James J. Hill in speaking for the American settlers at the Canadian Club today where he and Lord Strathcona, both noted pioneer railroad builders of the Northwest, were the guests of honor at a dinner.

"It is a long and hard job to assimilate a foreign population," continued Mr. Hill. "Those who come from our Western States speak your language and know your institutions. I am very sure they will quite rapidly fall into your local municipal organization and as a rule you can collect a judgement from them."

Mr. Hill concluded by moving a vote of thanks on behalf of himself and northwestern Americans in general to Lord Strathcona for the services he has rendered to this section of the continent in the course of his long career.

INCUBATOR BABY.

MRS. BARCLAY GIVEN TIME TO MAKE KIDNAPING DEFENSE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) Aug. 25.—James Barclay of Buffalo, N. Y., husband of Mrs. Stella Barclay, arrived here tonight to help his wife in her fight for the possession of little Marion Barclay, the kidnaped "incubator baby."

Mrs. Barclay and Detective James Gentry of Kansas City will have until August 30 to prepare arguments in their habeas corpus case whereby they hope to avoid being returned to Topeka for trial as kidnapers.

Gov. Hadley, next Friday, will give Mrs. Barclay and Gentry a rehearing in the Kansas extradition proceedings. If he decides to recall the requisition papers the kidnapers will go free, but the baby still will be under the court's orders.

Mrs. Barclay and Gentry will try to get bond. They are not pleased at the prospect of staying in jail until August 30.

Marian Barclay is not the child of Mrs. Bleakley, according to Mrs. Stella Barclay.

Her real mother, Mrs. Barclay declares, is an actress.

Mrs. Barclay said this morning, as she talked to a reporter in the matron's room:

"If I thought for one minute there was a drop of Mrs. Bleakley's blood in the child, I wouldn't have her for an instant. But I know to whom she belongs. She was the child of an actress.

"And, by the way, little Marian is the exact picture of her mother. The strong similarity of features, to my mind, makes the identification complete. If we could only by immediate legal proceedings get the actress into court there would be no doubt in the matter."

QUITS LOVE FOR CASH.

Taggart Gives Up Intended Marriage That He May Have California Ranch.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 25.—In order to comply with the terms of his brother's will, which required him to remain a batchelor, William Taggart of this city announced today that he would give up an intended marriage and will thereby receive a legacy of $15,000 and valuable ranch lands in California.

Taggart made the announcement after he had received word of the bequest from an attorney in Vallejo, Cal. The estate originally belonged to an uncle, who died many years ago, leaving the property to David S. Taggart, a brother of William, on condition that he remain unmarried.

The brother died last week at Vallejo and he left the estate to William.

GUNS IN FAMILY MIX-UP.

Divorced Husband and Stepson Rush to Arms Over Stepdaughter—No Arrests Made.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RED BLUFF, Aug. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At Nichels place, ten miles south of here, a tragedy was narrowly averted a few days ago when a sixteen-year-old boy named Taylor tried to drive his stepfather, named Moore, away from the place with a shotgun. Moore covered the boy with a pistol and told him to put up the gun.

Mrs. Moore recently secured an interlocutory decree of divorce from Moore, since which time Moore has been holding clandestine meetings with his stepdaughter, Miss Taylor, aged 22 years. It was because of this that young Taylor sought to drive him away. Mrs. Moore and her son came to town Monday to secure a warrant for the arrest of Moore, but could not show sufficient grounds. On their way home they met Moore and Miss Taylor coming to town, having taken advantage of the absence of the other members of the family. Young Taylor was unarmed so no trouble occurred then, but he came to town again to seek a warrant for Moore's arrest. Miss Taylor being of legal age, no warrant was issued.

Today Moore tried to get young Taylor arrested for threatening his life, but this warrant also was refused, and Moore said he would leave here with the girl.

RECORD DAY IN IMMIGRATION.

Eleven Thousand Land in New York. World Will Get Off Center Pretty Soon.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A new record in the number of passengers landing at this port in one day was established today when five trans-Atlantic steamships docked.

The vessels were the Caronia of the Cunard line, from Liverpool, with 480 cabin passengers and 632 steerage; the Argentina of the Austrian line, from Trieste, with 87 cabin passengers and 1043 steerage; Themistocles, from Mediterranean ports, with 465 passengers; the Cunarder, Carpathia, with 270 cabin passengers and 1242 steerage, and the Oceanic of the White Star line with 2000.

The Kaiser Wilhelm II Potsdam, the Holland-American line, the Grosser Kurfuerst, the North German Lloyd, and the United States, Scandinavian-American line, yesterday landed 4010 passengers. The country's population is thus augmented in two days by approximately 11,015 souls.

MURDER TRIAL UNDER GUARD.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 25.—The trial of the men charged with complicity in the murder in Finland, six years ago, of Deputy Hertzenstein, was resumed at Tericki, Finland, today. Members of the League of Russian People threaten to create a disturbance, and in order to preserve order a detachment of Finnish police has been sent to Tericki from Viborg.

BAD FIRE IN TUNNEL.

BUTTE (Mont.) Aug. 25.—Efforts to extinguish the fire raging in the half-mile tunnel of the Billings & Northern Railway, ten miles north of Billings, have proved ineffectual and the portals of the bore are now being bulkheaded in the hope of smothering the flames. All trains are being routed via Helena. The tunnel fire started Sunday morning.

PORTLAND GIRL DROWNS.

PORTLAND, Aug. 25.—Miss Martha A. Schuyler was drowned in the Willamette River near Portland this afternoon. Miss Helen Petsch, her companion, was almost drowned while trying to rescue her, and in turn was rescued by Birrel White, a 15-year-old boy.

OBITUARY.

Charles Alfred Byrne.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—The death from appendicitis in a Jersey City hospital is announced of Charles Alfred Byrne, journalist and playwright, who figured prominently in the Garfield campaign of 1880 as publisher of the newspaper in which appeared the forged Morey letter, purporting to give Gen. James A. Garfield's view on the question of Chinese labor. The Morey letter was the most sensational incident of an exciting political campaign.

James M. Brown.

TOLEDO (O.) Aug. 25.—James M. Brown, for many years president of the American Humane Association, died suddenly this afternoon.

Mrs. Sarah E. Thompson.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Sarah E. Thompson, the only woman carried on the rolls of the pension office as a soldier of the Union army, died at an early hour this morning, and today attorneys in behalf of her four surviving children filed suit against a local traction company for $10,000 damages. They allege that Mrs. Thompson died of injuries received last April, when struck by a car belonging to the defendant company. Mrs. Thompson, whose real name is Mrs. Sarah E. Cotton, she having married twice, was recognized as a soldier largely because of the services she rendered during the latter days of the Civil War by discovering and reporting to the Federal troops the hiding place of John Morgan, the Confederate general who invaded and terrorized Ohio. He was killed trying to escape from a prison [illegible] morning. No further [illegible]

PRESERVING PRESERVATIVE.

BENZOATE OF SODA MAKING FIGHT TO SAVE REPUTATION.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

DENVER (Colo.) Aug. 25.—The contention of the Department of Agriculture that benzoate of soda, used as a preservative in thousands of food products, is not harmful to the public health, will be defended here tomorrow by an array of chemical experts.

Secretary of Agriculture James Wilson was joined here today by Dr. Ira Remsen of Baltimore, Dr. Russell H. Chittenden of New Haven, Conn.; Dr. John H. Long of Evanston, Ill., and Dr. Christian H. Herter of New York, all members of the Remsen referee board, which was created by President Roosevelt to decide upon disputed points in the enforcement of the federal pure food laws.

They will appear before the convention of the State and National Food and Dairy Departments tomorrow to reiterate their findings, that benzoate of soda is not harmful when used in small quantities.

On the other hand in the association, which is composed of food commissioners and experts in chemistry from every State in the Union, there is a faction that asserts that the experiments made by the Remsen board should not be accepted as conclusive and that whether benzoate is harmful when taken constantly in the many foods in which it is used is still an open question.

J. Q. Emery, food commissioner of Wisconsin and president of the association, has openly opposed Secretary Wilson and the Remsen board. He asserts that there is no need for any kind of chemical preservative in food products. After the Remsen board members speak, a special committee appointed by President Emery is to give its opinion of the board's findings. It was reported tonight that some of the members of this committee had decided to accept Secretary Wilson's attitude.

Dr. E. F. Ladd, food commissioner of North Dakota, and Dr. H. E. Barnard, food commissioner of Indiana, addressed the convention tonight.

After the convention adjourns, Secretary Wilson will make a month's tour through the West. The Secretary will spend ten days or two weeks in visiting, by automobile, forest reservations in Idaho.

"I want to have a good look over these reservations," said the Secretary, "to see if some of the land is not fit for farming and whether it should be turned back to the Interior Department and by them opened for settlement. I am just going to roam around through the West without any very definite plans, to see what improvements can be made by the government for this great section of the country."

HARRIMAN BUYING.

extension have already been mapped out by the new owner. Great additions to the equipment will at once be made, there having been prepared a list of many new cars and locomotives to be ordered at once from St. Louis. At present it takes a train two and one-half days to make the trip from Gamboa to Mariscal. Within a few months, at most, regular passenger trains will run daily from one terminus to the other.

IMPORTANT IMPROVEMENTS.

Stone depots will be erected at all stations and steel will supplant timber in the construction of bridges. Steel water tanks will take the place of those of wood and an immediate innovation will be the building of many miles of additional sidings. E. M. Wise, assistant to President Doak, will remain with the road, vested with additional authorities. There will be no change of the line's name.

Henceforth the Pan-American is to receive the undivided attention of the Nebraska statesman, after he shall have had time to clear away duty details of his government office. He will be the veritable czar of the line, directing its destiny in every particular and personally supervising its various development. Management of the undertaking will be a matter of special pride, because to the American diplomat will belong the distinction of owning the only road on earth reaching Central America from the outside, even though his custody may prove only temporary, awaiting the will of Harriman.

In due time there will be built the bridge across the Suchiate River and then all exports of this richest region of Guatemala, now shipped from the port of Ocos to Salina Cruz and thence hauled via the Tehuantepec National across the isthmus to Puerto Mexico for consignment to European markets, will be diverted by the more direct route of the Pan-American to Gamboa and thence over the Tehuantepec National to the Mexican Gulf. Coffee exports alone from this territory, now of no profit to the Pan-American, run to 25,000 tons per annum.

TAPS RICH LANDS.

Some of the richest agricultural, range, timber and mineral land in all Mexico is traversed by or tributary to the Pan-American road, which will draw support from the Pacific gulf of Tehuantepec and the Atlantic Gulf of Mexico, doing business with the preeminently important port of Salina Cruz on the west and Puerto Mexico and Vera Cruz on the east of the isthmus.

Living in towns along the line and near-by plantations there are now 300,000 people, many of them wide-awake Americans who are making gratifying headway in the development of the country and prosecuting exploitation in such a vigorous manner as promises certain and speedy increase of progressive population. Among the chief products are corn, coffee, henequin, sugar and rubber. Fine cattle fatten on the luxurious ranges and nowhere else on earth is there a greater abundance of the best Spanish cedar.

Names and populations of some of the towns along the line, in the rapidly coming-out States of Oaxaca and Chiapas, are Reforma, 1200; Escuintla, 1500; Huehuetan, 2000; Espinal, 2000; Union Hidalgo, 2000; Jalisco, 2000; Mapastepec, 2000; Huixtla, 2000; Ixtaltepec, 400; Pijijiapam, 4000; Gamboa, 5000; Tonala, 8000; Tapachula, 12,000, and Juchitan, 18,000. There are scores of towns ranging in population from 500 to 1000. Comparatively slight distances from the line are Fuxtla, Gutierres, with a population of 12,000; Comitan, 13,000, and San Cristobal, 18,000.

Regions beyond San Cristobal are heavily timbered with the finest mahogany and other rare woods. This is a section almost uninhabited and only half explored. The country offers exceptional inducements to investors, looking for certain and liberal profits, tourists interests in the quaintest and oldest ruins of past civilizations and sportsmen keen for the slaughter of such savage game as would prove worth the leaden mettle of a Roosevelt.

J. P. MORGAN NEARLY WRECKED.

Yacht Corsair Strikes Submerged Ledge and Comes Into Port Leaking.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—The fact that J. P. Morgan, the financier, was nearly shipwrecked on a ledge in Long Island Sound, while returning from Newport to this city yesterday on his steam yacht Corsair, became known today when the yacht was put in a drydock at Hoboken for repairs.

The accident happened near City Island, in the westerly end of Long Island Sound. The Corsair was making fast time, bringing Mr. Morgan and a party of friends to town, when she struck a submerged ledge.

Reversing her propellers, the yacht quickly backed off, but began to leak. The machinery was not badly disarranged, however, and the Corsair proceeded to New York under reduced speed with her pumps going to keep her free from water.

EXPERT TELEGRAPHER INJURED.

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—John H. Hurley, one of the most expert telegraphers in the country, was fatally injured at Hammond, Ind., today when in the act of boarding a train. Hurley came to Chicago recently, following the failure of a big brokerage firm in one of whose branches he was employed. His family lives in Brooklyn.

POLYTECHNIC STUDY ASKED.

Superintendents Will Consider Resolution.

Office Drafts Demand on State Legislature.

Similar Desire for Practical Work Cited.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 25.—A resolution will be drafted by the State Legislature to give to high schools of the State the polytechnic courses of study, pursuant to the convention of boards and county school superintendents which was held here tomorrow.

The resolution was drafted today by a committee consisting of Will C. Wood, State Superintendent of Schools; J. J. Baldwin of San Diego, Mrs. A. Stockton, of Bakersfield, president of Los Angeles and Alameda district of San Francisco.

In presenting the document, the committee spoke upon the expressed wishes of a majority of the educators attending the conference. It is claimed that there is a popular demand for more practical studies in high schools of the State. The resolution declares that the polytechnic feature of education has long passed the experimental stage.

Many leaders and the ethics involved in the relations of school officials to school-book publishers or agents will be discussed tomorrow. The session will center on the friendly relations between the officers and teachers.

Many enrolled instructors were reported today that they might visit the sights of the valley.

SHE MARRIED WRIGHT.

Woman Claims She Was Bride of Orville and Had Been Deserted by Him.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DAYTON, Aug. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Married at fifteen to Orville Wright, the famous aviator, deserted years later into believing herself married again and divorced and, according to her own story, a woman who now lives in Dayton earning a living for herself and four-year-old son by nursing.

The twenty-seven years old woman, Mrs. Carson tells circumstances of her romance. She and Wright married, she says, in Oct. 1892 at Central City, Nebraska. She was fifteen years old when "Orville married me," said Mrs. Carson, "my parents were against the bitter because of my parents, as he was only 21 and I a mere girl. But we lived happily for two years. A year after our boy Lester was born Orville left me and his son, as he was dead.

Later I met him and a year later I was married to J. C. Carson, who is always known and who now lives in Vancouver, Wash. After I was separated, Mr. Carson is living. I received a letter from Orville about that time and sent him cards for our son. I do not ask him for anything, but his silence has grieved me cruelly."

CASES DROPPING OUT.

Indictments in Old Oregon Lands Will Be Dismissed This Fall.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PORTLAND, Aug. 25.—Many of the indictments in the old Oregon land cases, which were returned by J. J. Heney, probably will be dismissed this fall, and it is even stated that the indictments against Binger Herrmann, former commissioner of the General Land Office, Washington, may be among those dismissed.

Heney has arrived in Portland and announced that he will not prosecute Herrmann and that he does not believe Herrmann will ever be indicted. It is stated that this matter will be left to Atty.-Gen. Wickersham.

Assistant Dist.-Atty. McCourt has filed papers in the various cases and declares that he intends to put the docket this fall. Heney and McCourt says, are the only ones he has not arranged. He classes the indictments among the triable cases and states the matter rests with the Attorney-General.

SEARCH OF WHALES.

Vessel Leaves San Francisco With Crew of Oil—Thrilling Adventures.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—The steamer Gayhead, Capt. Wing, returned after a voyage of eighteen months to Kodiak with 1050 barrels of oil, product of twenty-five whales secured off the Japanese coast. The largest cargo of its kind ever brought to this port.

Two boats were destroyed on July 4 when the Gayhead ran into a school of whales. The first mate, Mr. Jones, was thrown to one of the monsters and tossed into the air with his boat. He was struck by the blow of the whale's tail and an hour later with his crew suffered the same experience.

The mate's boat was also destroyed, the struggling crews being rescued by hard work on the part of the others.

BOATS IN FRONT.

Exhibit at State Fair by Far Surpasses Any Has Good Position, Too.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Installation of the exhibit for the state fair, which opens next Monday, has already begun today. The space occupies the entire southern end of the main building in the most prominent position, as is already apparent, from the number of booth.

The opening of the fair at Sacramento before the Legislature has been a custom for years. The big building in Capitol Park, however, has been used at Agricultural Park.

Many of one will be taken. The controversy over the pretty barmaids, instead of hurting the attendance, is expected to prove a drawing card. Some of the leading society girls in Sacramento will serve wine. After Sacramento, the exhibits go to Oakland. There is much talk of dividing the fair hereafter between Los Angeles and one of the northern cities, instead of between Sacramento and Oakland.

GIRLS FOR ELEVATORS.

Portland Building Superintendent Plans Change—Has He Figured on Increased Traffic?

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND, Aug. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Four pretty girls calling out "going up" in voices nicely modulated from contralto to high soprano, is the sight that promises to gladden the eyes and ears of tenants in the Chamber of Commerce Building in the near future.

Troubled by changing elevator men and boys and never certain whether they will appear at all or not, Capt. C. M. V. Silva, superintendent of the building, will replace all of the elevator men with girls. He believes the experiment will be a success and doesn't see why a bright athletic type of girl cannot handle a controller and a safety clutch with as much success as any man.

"I shall have to employ girls," said Capt. Silva this morning. "They are more reliable than men in similar positions and as there is no difficult physical work connected with running an elevator, I don't see why they shouldn't make good easily."

WATER SUPPLY FOR SALE.

DISTRICT MAY BUY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

STOCKTON, Aug. 25.—The San Joaquin Canal and Irrigation Company, which now supplies water to parts of Stanislaus and San Joaquin counties through what are called the Tulloch canals, has offered to sell its irrigation system to the recently organized South San Joaquin irrigation district for $700,000 in bonds of the district at par.

A proposition also has been received by the district for water rights on the Mokelumne River.

If the Stanislaus River is chosen as a source of supply the cost of buying out the private system will be divided with the Oakdale district now in process of formation.

CONBOY'S VICTIM DYING.

CASE UP FRIDAY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—Bernard Lagan, the young coal dealer who was shot and seriously wounded by Captain of Police Michael J. Conboy several weeks ago, is reported to be dying.

Conboy, who was dismissed from the police department after trial on a charge of intoxication, appeared in court today with his attorneys, who requested a continuance of one week in the matter of his preliminary examination.

Police Judge Conlan refused to entertain the proposal for so long a delay and after directing the prosecution to investigate Lagan's condition, made an order for continuance of the case until Friday.

Lagan has been sinking steadily since last Friday.

COAL COMPANY SUED.

BIG DAMAGE ASKED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—For the third time within a week, the Stone Cañon Consolidated Coal Company has been made defendant in a damage suit resulting from accidents in the company's Monterey county coal mine.

Heirs of two workmen killed in an explosion last July, demand $50,000 for each death, and today Arsole Picolo, a workman, sued for $10,000, the price he places upon the loss of his right eye.

The defendant claims that an incompetent workman caused the explosion which resulted in his injury.

'GENE SCHMITZ DISCOVERER.

FINDS LOST GOLD MINE LEDGE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MARYSVILLE, Aug. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The long lost ledge of the Carlisle mine at Forbestown, for which thousands of dollars have been spent in a vain search, has been found by ex-Mayor Schmitz of San Francisco, who is the present owner of the property. The ledge has been found across the river from the point where it was lost years ago, and the ledge shows as strong in gold as it did in years gone by. Schmitz has a ten-stamp mill on the property and it will now be kept running day and night.

SKULL TELLS NO TALES.

SHOWS BULLET HOLES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MARYSVILLE, Aug. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A human skull with a bullet hole through it from forehead to back was found yesterday by workingmen engaged in excavating for a building at Chico. The skull was found at a depth of over seven feet and there were a few other bones scattered about. In all probability the skull is that of a man who was either murdered and buried years ago or of a victim of one of the several battles fought with the Indians on the spot where Chico now stands. No other skulls have been found and this gives color to the theory that the victim was murdered.

MARSHFIELD (Or.) Aug. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. J. F. McIndoe, wife of Maj. McIndoe, government engineer, rescued her youngest son, James, aged 7, from drowning in Coos River yesterday morning. SACRAMENTO IN FEAR FOR FAIR.

CAPITAL CITY HUSTLING TO PAY EXHIBITION'S EXPENSES.

Civic Organizations Trying to Raise Twenty Thousand Dollars to Prevent Annual Event Going Hereafter to Oakland or Los Angeles, as Intimated by Legislature.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At a meeting of civic associations today steps were taken to raise $20,000 by the sale of 4000 season tickets at $5 each to insure the success of the State Fair, which opens Saturday.

Sacramento, for the first time in years, is thoroughly alarmed about its claim in perpetuity to the fair. When the State Fair appropriation was first brought before the Legislature at the last session, $40,000 was the estimate placed on the amount it will require to carry it through to a successful conclusion. But instead of $40,000, only half that amount was given. And the State Fair directors were told in action, if not words, that this year is to be the test. The fair must pay or be taken from Sacramento.

It is with this expectation that ten special agents, employed by the civic organizations; will canvass Sacramento, selling tickets. An appeal is sounded, asking all who feel that Sacramento should be vindicated, to buy tickets. It was announced at a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce building tonight that the State Fair appropriation at the next Legislature depends entirely on whether or not sufficient money is taken in at the gate to pay the expenses.

No deficit will be met, no quarter will be given, and if Sacramento fails to assist this time, this fair will be the last ever held in the capital city.

A second edition of the fair will be held this year at Idora Park, Oakland. And if Sacramento falls down in the matter of meeting expenses, it is clearly understood that an effort will be made at the next session of the Legislature to divide the fair between Los Angeles and Oakland, cutting out Sacramento.

TRAMPS INJURE BRAKEMAN.

ALMOST KILL HIM.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICO, Aug. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Brakeman P. C. Capito of Southern Pacific freight train No. 231, south-bound, arriving here late last night, was almost killed by four tramps whom he tried to dislodge from his train. Capito was placed in a hospital here where several wounds on his face and neck were stitched. One grazed the jugular vein without severing it. All four tramps were lodged in jail. The trouble started at Tehama where trainmen tried to dislodge the tramps. At that time Capito protected himself by drawing a gun. When the train was switching here the tramps assaulted him. One struck him with a sling shot and the others slashed him with a razor three times. Capito defended himself with a lantern until other trainmen arrived.

ALL KINDS OF LUCK.

Oregon Man Draws Flathead Lands, Foundling Baby and Hornet's Nest.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PENDLETON (Or.) Aug. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Clyde Finch, chief mailing clerk in the postoffice, considered himself a lucky man ten days ago when he won a valuable claim in the Flathead Reservation drawing.

And when last week, answering a night ring at their door bell, his wife and himself found a beautiful babe in a basket on the step, he was rejoiced again and put in the next day telling his friends what a lucky man he was.

Sunday he was fishing in the Umatilla River, and fell into a hornet's nest. He was terribly stung, and to escape the furious insects jumped into the water, when he almost drowned, being saved by friends barely in the niche of time. He has been confined in bed with the stings ever since, but will recover.

FEARS ALLAYED.

STATE COMPTROLLER EXPLAINS PLAN FOR COLLECTING TA

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO (Cal.) Aug. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Many people who found cause for alarm in the published statement that the State Comptroller's office is about to sue for the recovery of the inheritance taxes due from estates alienated in contemplation of death will be relieved by a modifying announcement from State Comptroller Nye that wholesale testing of cases is not intended.

Comptroller Nye says he does not believe in unnecessary putting clouds on the titles to real estate, which would occur if he insisted on unearthing the past of estates that have long since been prohibited the courts and perhaps have passed into the hands of innocent purchasers, unaware of tax lien to which it was subject.

"We are looking carefully into collection of [illegible] inheritance throughout the state," said Nye, "the future we shall see that there no under-appraisement, but w the court has fixed the tax and it been paid and the property distrib we shall not interfere, even if of the property has been deede contemplation of death to escape tax. If there is fraud, however, will begin proceedings."

As a result of the activities of State Comptroller the Title Insur companies are now requiring factory evidence to be produce the payment of the tax in all of transfer of the kind designate the act.

Gilmore's Aeroplane, Dropped or Thrown at Any Angle, Quickly Rights Itself.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

COLFAX, Aug. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Lyman Gilmore, the young inventor of the gyroscope airship whose successful flight from Cape Horn a week ago created a sensation, refuses to permit public inspection of the machine.

For years Gilmore has been working on his model. People often have surprised him in his experiments or caught him in a lonely spot watching a buzzard, a hawk or an eagle as it soared far above him. CITY" OFFICERS ARRESTED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

EVELAND (O.) Aug. 25.—One officer of the Juvenile Court ked a whole "city" government yesterday and hauled the Mayor, Chief of Police, a policeman and lderman away to court. The govent has been maintained for sevweeks by the boys at the Scranton infirmary playgrounds. The officers and citizens all were boys. The charge against the dignitaries, to which they pleaded guilty, was stealing several baseball uniforms and balls from the playground lockers. Superintendent Clark noted the theft a week ago and he at once called Chief of Police Earl Reithaler and Mayor Archie Bly into his office and told them to search their municipality for thieves. They promised to do their best. But the thieves were not caught. The Mayor and Chief looked sorely perplexed whenever the superintendent called on them to report. "This is indeed a mystifying case," said the Chief. "There is not a clew." The Mayor allowed the Chief was right. Then some disappointed aspirant to political office accused the heads of the government with Policemen Gordon, Kopp and Alderman John Doyle of being the thieves. The boys admitted the theft and promised to replace the goods.

BRAKEMAN SAVES FARMER.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) Aug. 25.—J. M. Underwood, a farmer, owes his life to the presence of mind of a brakeman on the Chicago, Peoria & St. Louis Railroad. Riding upon the pilot of his engine, which was pulling a fast freight train, Brakeman Woodstock saw the body of a man lying across the rails directly in front of the train as it rounded a curve. Signaling the engineer, who slowed down the train with the emergency brakes, he extended himself forward on the pilot as far as posible and, with his foot, shoved Underwood from the track. When the train was stopped, Underwood was picked up at the foot of a steep embankment. Other than a painfully-bruised shoulder from coming in contact with the brakeman's shoe, he was uninjured.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—The President has taken cognizance of charges made by L. S. Glavis, chief of the division of the general land office in the Northwest, with headquarters at Seattle, against his superiors.

Mr. Glavis has presented a report to the President, in which he is understood to have attempted to show that higher officials of the Interior Department have been unnecessarily concerned in the expedition of what are known as the Cunningham claims to valuable coal lands in Alaska, and in doing so, acted entirely independently of the general officers of the department.

The officials are much incensed over the report, but they take the position that as they are preparing a report for the President, their lips are sealed against any outside discussion of the subject.

This was the attitude assumed by Commissioner Dennett, who only today arrived from an inspection tour through the West, and acting Secretary Pierce coincided with this view. The two officials were engaged early in the day with Asst. Atty-Gen. Lawler in consultation with reference to the proposed report to Beverly and assurance was given that it would be put in shape as soon as possible.

The incident is regarded generally as a phase of the conflict between the Interior Department and the Forestry Service. It is felt in the department that Mr. Glavis is coöperating with the Forestry Bureau, and this circumstance adds no little to the resentment there expressed.

STRANDED SCHOONER RESCUED.

Fair Oaks, Blown on Spit, Is Pulled Off by Tug, But Deckload Is Lost.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

HOQUIAM, Aug. 25.—The steam schooner Fair Oaks, which was blown on the North Spit and stranded while attempting to pass out over the Gray's Harbor bar during a sixty-mile gale this afternoon, was pulled from her perilous position by the tug Cudahy tonight and is now outside the bar. The steamer's deck load of lumber was lost when she went ashore.

The United States gunboat Yorktown, which was lying outside the bar waiting for a chance to enter the harbor, stood by the unfortunate vessel ready to take off the crew and render other assistance should the vessel begin to break up. The extent of the damage sustained by the steamer is not known.

FASTEST RACE EVER TROTTED.

Hamburg Belle and Uhlan in Match Contest.

Marc Wins and Breaks Two World's Records.

Victor Sold on Track for Fifty Thousand.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CLEVELAND (O.) Aug. 25.—In a marvelous exhibition of speed, Hamburg Belle, the Kentucky mare, on the Randall race track today, not only defeated Uhlan, the New England gelding, in two straight heats in their first trotting match, but lowered her own record and broke two world's records.

Hamburg Belle cut a second and a half from her own best previous mark of 2:02 3-4. Then she broke the world's trotting race record by going the first heat in 2:01 1-4. This was followed by a second record-smashing exhibition when she went the second heat in 2:01 3-4, thus establishing an average of 2:01¼ for two heats.

The former record was 2:03 1-4, made by Cresceus in a match race with The Abbot at Brighton Beach in August, 1904.

Immediately after the first heat, Hamburg Belle was sold to H. M. Hanna of this city, for $50,000, by Edward and Joseph Madden, owners of the mare, and sons of John E. Madden.

In the second heat Uhlan broke near the half-mile pole and again at the three-eighths. Finally he was distanced by Hamburg Belle. Uhlan was leading at the half, having covered the second quarter in 29s. In the first heat Uhlan was given the same time as Hamburg Belle.

Uhlan will again meet Hamburg Belle at Readville, September 3. No odds were offered in the betting yet, but the driver of each horse was confident of victory.

Uhlan is a five-year-old gelding, owned by Charles Sanders, of Salem, Mass., and is driven by Robert Proctor. Uhlan developed his greatest speed this year.

Hamburgh Belle is a Kentucky mare, seven years old, formerly owned by Edward and Joseph Madden, and is driven by William Andrews. She made her fast mark at Hartford, Conn., September 7, 1908.

Results:

Sweepstakes, trotting for records: Peter Francis won in two heats: time, 2m. 11¼s; 2m. 11⅝s. Dewitt also started.

Match race, purse, gate receipts: Hamburg Belle won in two heats. Uhlan also started. Time by quarters, first heat: 31s, 1m. 1s, 1m. 31s, 2m. 1s; second heat; 31⅛s, 59 ⅛s, 1m. 30s, 1⅛s.

CALIFORNIA CIRCUIT.

RACES BEGIN AT CHICO.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICO, Aug. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There was a fair attendance the opening day of the racing meet here. The sport was satisfactory, without any such sensational performance as that of Jim Logan at Woodland last week. The great Yolo counstallion is here and will go an exhibition mile probably on Saturday.

In the judges' stand were A. L. Echols, Flood Parks and Ed Ferbiss. No neophytes were sent against their time, Gladys Moore to beat 2:30, made a new mark of 2:28, and Gene L. did the same.

The principal event on the card was the 2:20 trot, which was taken in straight heats by Kid Wilkes; best time, 2:09¼. The 2:15 pace was easy for Moorirrix.

AT BRIGHTON BEACH.

MORE AUTOMOBILE RACES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—The casualties at the motor racing at Indianapolis last week caused the officials of the Brighton Beach motor track here to rebuild the course with the idea of eliminating any such accidents, and it confidently predicted now that all records will be smashed in the 24-hour race, which is to start at 10 o'clock Friday night. The ten cars—eight American, one Italian and one French—that are to compete in the event, and their drivers, are:

Renault—Charles Basle and Louis Chevrolovitch.

Fiat—Ralph de Palma and E. H. Parker.

Mercer-Zinger—Ray Howard and Frank Lecanit.

Isotta—Frank Dearborn and a driver to be selected.

Lozier—Cyrus Patschke and H. A. Van Heine.

Stearns—Ralph Mulford and Laurent Grosso.

Houpt—George Robertson and Al Poole.

Allen-Kingston—Hugh Hughes and Frank Lawell.

Fiat—Ralph de Palma and E. H. Parker.

Rainier—Louis A. Disbrow and Charles H. Lund.

With the idea of stimulating the drivers to high speed, the members of the track have offered prizes for the greatest mileage made in any one hour and for various accomplishments.

George Robertson, who won the last 24-hour race, predicts that more than twelve hundred miles will be made by the winner of this event.

STERLING (Ill.) Aug. 25.—Owing to rain here today, a race between Dan Patch and Minor Heir, to break the world's half-mile track record, was postponed until Friday.

Latonia Fall Meet.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 25.—The Latonia Jockey Club today announced it will make preparations for a fall race meeting of twenty-four days, beginning October 11. However, if the Kentucky State Racing Commission wins in its fight against the Latonia club, it is believed the fall meeting will be called off.

Terms of Agreement.

By the terms of the agreement drawn up by Manager McCarey, Jack Johnson is to receive $5000, with a privilege of 50 per cent. of the gross if it exceeds the guaranteed amount. Barry is to get $1000 with no conditions.

FOR THE FARMER.

The Automobile Club of France has just decided to offer an annual prize of $200, for a period of six years, to the farmer who makes the greatest use of agricultural motors in connection with his farm.

The British admiralty announced yesterday that the Australian squadron of the imperial navy will consist of one armored cruiser, three other cruisers, six torpedo boat destroyers and three submarines.

TELLS THE CORONER.

MOTOR SPEEDWAY PRESIDENT ADMITS TRACK WAS UNSAFE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) Aug. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Coroner Blackwell today made public the testimony of Carl G. Fisher, president of the Motor Speedway Company, in the cases of William Bourque and Harry Holcomb, killed at the speedway in races of August 19.

Fisher gave his testimony last Saturday but did not sign it until today, after which the Coroner made it public.

There were several interesting and important details in Fisher's testimony. He told Coroner Blackwell that he examined the Knox car, which Bourque and Holcomb occupied in the race, and found that two of the axle bed plates were broken. One was badly shattered and the other was so broken that the axle was let down to the ground. He said one of the plates was crystallized.

When asked concerning the condition of the track, Fisher said it was in good condition when the race started. He admitted that there was a bad place in the track where the track crossed a ditch, but he was sure that it had no part in the wreck, as the car was going seventy miles an hour when the axle plates broke. The Coroner apparently was not satisfied with this answer, for he then asked Fisher if they did not put on the races before the track was finished. To this Fisher answered in the affirmative.

"Is it a fact that you did not have time to complete the track?" asked the Coroner.

"Yes, that is true," Fisher answered.

"You were expecting an accident of some kind, were you not?" the Coroner continued.

"Yes, sir," was the reply.

"And for that reason you had the hospital built there?"

"Yes, sir."

Coroner Blackwell asked Fisher how much longer it would have taken to make the track perfect, and he answered that it would never be in a perfect shape, as a gang of men was constantly kept busy making repairs when the racers were not on the track.

PUNCHING IN SIGHT.

BROCK SIGNS WITH PICATO.

LIGHTWEIGHTS AGREE TO MEET IN TWO WEEKS.

Winner Will Be Given Something Good in the Fight Line If His Victory is Decisive—Articles for Johnson-Barry Fight Sent North to Be Signed.

Phil Brock and Frank Picato have patched up their differences, or rather have come to terms and Manager McCarey of the Pacific Athletic club signed them yesterday for a ten-round main event at the Naud Junction barn on the night of Tuesday September 7.

This bout should promise some hot scrapping, for both boys are willing and anxious to make good. The match will supply the one called off several weeks ago because Picato would not fight unless he could make catch-weights, holding that inasmuch as Brock had asked for a postponement of the match it should only be fought at a catchweight. Both of the boys are well known here, having fought a number of times in this city, and if the winner is a decisive victor he may get something better later on in the summer. They are to make 133 pounds at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of the fight.

McCarey yesterday forwarded to Jack Johnson the articles signed by Jim Barry and the local club, calling for a ten-round bout with Jack Johnson on the night of Tuesday, September 21. It is understood that Johnson is guaranteed $5000 and Barry $1000 and on the dope these should be about the odds on the bout.

The contest will doubtless draw a big house owing to the desire to see Johnson in action for the battle may give the local fight bugs a line on how he would stack up against Jeffries and yet they have a poor opinion of him since the showing he made with Jack O'Brien. Johnson practically made his reputation in this city when he beat the then black champion Denver Ed Martin. Their first fight was won by Johnson on points and later on he knocked out Martin in two rounds in the old Hazard's pavilion on the night of October 18, 1905, so it is almost five years since Johnson has fought here.

Barry intends to go on a trip to the mountains for several weeks and when he returns will begin active training for the match, for if he should happen to win it he would be champion of the world for a month or so at least and he will certainly not overlook anything he can do to put himself into the best condition.

Dan Sullivan, an athletic brother of Montana Jack and Gene Sullivan, was given a tryout at the Naud Junction fight house yesterday and showed considerable class. He will be given a chance with some middleweight in the near future. He wants to fight Flynn.

BRITT PROCRASTINATING.

UNABLE TO GET LOWER BERTH.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Willis britt, as erratic as ever, failed to connect with the Overland last night for the East, and unless one cares to act as a guardian there can be no guarantee that he has as yet departed for New York or that he will arrive in the metropolis of the Atlantic Coast. It is reported that Britt took a train early this evening, but any reports concerning the manager must be accepted with a grain of salt.

After bidding all of his friends and acquaintances adieu Tuesday afternoon and declaring that he would leave at 9 o'clock for New York, Britt discovered that he couldn't secure a lower berth, calmly abandoned his plans, and later in the evening showed up at a Fillmore street resort.

"I wasn't going to hang up on a nail all the way across the continent," was the way Britt explained that he would have been forced to take an "upper."

He declared that he would leave at 10 o'clock this morning, but he was seen early in the afternoon and if he took an Overland it must have been tonight. The way Britt has been taking his time in going to New York does not indicate that he is in any special hurry to clinch the match with Langford.

Ketchel, who gave a banquet to some of his friends at The Hague last evening, had apparently made no definite plans as to his departure. It is said that he may go tomorrow but that is as indefinite as are the plans of his manager.

JOHNSON AGREES TO FIGHT BARRY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In regard to the proposed Johnson-Barry fight in Los Angeles before Tom McCarey's ten-round club, George Little, Johnson's manager, said tonight that Johnson would be ready to accept the southern match providing the date could be put ahead.

"Of course Johnson could not fight there on September 15, as they wanted, but would like about ten days for training. If they will make the date about September 29, we will accept.

BUNDY BEATEN BY CLOTHIER.

McLoughlin to Meet Victor in Finals Today.

Both Californians Put Up Classy Tennis.

May Sutton to Contest in Finals at Niagara.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEWPORT (R. I.) Aug. 25.—For the fourth time in his lawn tennis career, William J. Clothier, of Philadelphia, has reached the final round of the national tournament on the Newport Casino courts, by virtue of his victory over Thomas C. Bundy of Los Angeles, in the semi-finals today, 3 sets to 1.

From the outset it has been expected he would come safely through to the finals this year, the only real uncertainty being over his match with Behr in the fifth round, which proved easy.

Meantime there has arisen a new figure among the premier tennis players of the country in the person of M. E. McLoughlin, the Pacific Coast champion, who has not yet attained his majority, and it is he who will match his skill against Clothier tomorrow.

McLoughlin has not come through his six matches by accident, for his opponents have included such expert players as R. H. Palmer, G. F. Touchard, and the speedy Californian, Melville Long. McLoughlin won from Touchard in the semi-finals today by three sets to one.

Clothier won, 6-3, 6-2, 6-3, 7-5, and McLoughlin won by 6-3, 4-6, 7-5, 6-2.

In 1903 Clothier was the runner-up in the Newport event, being defeated in the finals by H. L. Doherty, the English champion, while the following year he reached the same stage, only to be defeated by Holcombe Ward. In 1906 he defeated Karl Behr in the final round, and won the championship from Beals C. Wright in the challenge round.

The weather was of the best for good tennis, and the hardest-fought matches of the national tournament were played off.

When the Clothier-Bundy match was started on the championship court, every seat was taken. The 1906 champion was favorite, although Bundy was expected to make it a hard fight.

SOUTHAMPTON, Aug. 25.—J. C. Parke, C. P. Dixon and W. C. Crawley, the members of the team that is to represent Great Britain in the tennis competitions beginning September 11 at Philadelphia, for the Dwight Davis international challenge cup, left here today for New York.

TRAP SHOOTING.

SEATTLE (Wash.) Aug. 25.—The West triumphed over the East in the second day of the big trap shoot in progress here under the auspices of the interstate association. In the important event of the day—the preliminary handicap—two westerners tied for first place among the amateurs and a third westerner came in for second place.

C. R. Adelman of Boise, Idaho, and E. E. Ellis of Seattle each broke 93 out of a possible 100 targets and J. L. McLaughlin of Seattle was next with 92. In shooting off the tie Adelman missed his first target but steadied down and scored 17 out of a possible 20. Ellis broke 16 targets, losing by one point.

Corrected figures on yesterday's opening shoot give the honors of the day to C. V. Dering, an amateur of Columbus, Wis., who broke 171 out of a possible 175 targets. The figures as first compiled gave Fred Gilbert, the Iowa professional, high score with 170.

The final shoot, the Pacific Coast Handicap, will take place tomorrow afternoon.

Wise Talks By The "Office Boy"

I heard a man say that the principle disgrace about dying rich was that a lot of women will come forward and claim that you married them. Still, I guess the only way to change a woman's views is to agree with them.

Did you ever notice that a man becomes a pessimist when he loses his money; and a cynic when he loses his heart.

Buying goods at half-price or dealing in futures sounds more refined than gambling, but a man will lose just as much.

Did you ever notice that trouble seems to have a wireless connection with the fellow that is looking for it. You often hear the expression, "I'm out of luck." Let me tell you what luck is. Luck means appointments you have never failed to keep; the trains you have never failed to catch; rising early enough to get to your post of duty ready to go to work on the tap of the bell; living on not more than a dollar fifty a day, if you earn two; minding your own business and trusting in God and your own resources.

Lack of pluck is also very often apt to be the reason for a man's complaint about his luck. We all need more grit, more nerve, more get-up-and-get, and an inconquerable ambition to rise. The greatest preparation that James A. Garfield ever had for the presidency of Hiram College was when he rang the bell and swept the halls in the College, while he was a boy; and when he washed dishes in the dormitory and sold books during the summer to defray his college expenses. He was doing that which gave him a knowledge of men and things and fitted him to occupy the highest office in the greatest country in the world.

One of the greatest handicaps an ambitious boy can have is often the fact that his parents have a lot of money, and they want their boy to shine without paying the price in hard work.

Our fall goods are coming in daily. When are you coming in? Either store.

Willett Heaves Good Game, But Is Accorded Very Poor Support—Coy's Home Run Prevents Shut-Out for Unhappy's Men and Is Cause of Eleven-Inning Contest.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] How not to make runs and base running at its worst were two features of the national game ably illustrated by Happy Hogan's jokesmiths at Recreation Park this afternoon. By rights the luckless Vernonites should have won hands down, but when a team makes four hits in one inning and only one man gets as far as second base, that team looks like a helpless case. Concluding with allowing two of their runners to be thrown out at second on what should have been two-baggers, the Vernonites awaited to the eleventh inning to present the game to the Seals, 2 to 1.

Unable to land effectively on Willett, who pitched a good game and who distinguished himself, as opposed to his clubmates, for that reason, the Seals made both of their runs chiefly through errors. Three bad throws were responsible for the first run and a wild peg by Haley, figured in the deciding score. But for a homer over the right-field fence by Coy, there would have been no Vernon score and the game would have been concluded in regular fashion. All in all, there has been no more complete gift to San Francisco than was handed to the club this afternoon.

Ralph Willis was doing little more than lobbing the ball over the plate, but the Vernonites couldn't run bases fast enough to keep themselves warm.

The second inning was eventful for the way Vernon did not score. Martinke opened it with a hit that resounded as it struck the right-field fence. He foolishly allowed himself to be caught between first and second. That was hit one without results. Coy followed by putting the ball over short and he, too, was caught trying to steal second; hit two. Mott produced the third hit with a drive to right and was sent to second when Hogan beat out a bunt. Willett, however, put one to Willis and was an easy out at first. Vernon consequently had fattened its batting average, but had accomplished nothing else.

In the same inning Jimmy Lewis was safe at first on Devereaux's fumble. He stole second and took third on Hogan's overthrow. Mott almost caught Jimmy napping, but dropped the ball and a moment later Hogan made a wild peg to third that struck Lewis in the small of the back. As the ball bounded to the outfield, Lewis bounced home.

Vernon tied it up in the fourth with Coy's home run, and then the game dragged on into an extra inning. The Seals closed it up in the eleventh on Mohler's infield bunt, Haley's wild throw of a sacrifice by Tennant, and Bodie's single, which scored Mohler.

MRS. SHAW ASKS ALIMONY.

Wife of Senator Asks Reasonable Sum Pending Decision in Divorce Courts.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, Aug. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Another chapter in the troubles of Senator James A. Shaw and his wife, Nettie Shaw, was opened in the Superior Court at Salem, Mass., today. Mrs. Shaw, who, the Senator asserts, deserted him, petitioned the court through her attorneys to order Mr. Shaw to pay a "reasonable sum" for alimony pending the decision in the divorce action which is to be heard this fall.

In addition to asking for alimony, the Senator's wife asked that an allowance of $3500 be granted her for counsel fees and the expense of taking depositions in preparation for the trial.

When the case does come to a hearing it is promised the evidence will add new sensations in addition to the full recounting of the various spectacular struggles between the Senator and his wife for the possession of their little son and numerous depositions, it is said, have already been secured from Californians concerning Mrs. Shaw's life there.

"THE TIMES" STANDARD GUIDE.

The correct pronunciation of Spanish names is given. A complete directory of all the hotels of prominence and the chief restaurants of Southern California; a list, with description, of the amusement places, of industrial and art exhibitions, sports, parks, libraries, office buildings, banks, hospitals, churches and services, public and Federal buildings, electric and railway stations, stables, taxicab and cab stands, sanitariums, springs, resorts, camps, historic landmarks, etc.; a description and history of every mission and of every city and town with a population over 500 in Southern California. The Guide will contain numerous maps and plans.

The information will not be in a simple index directory form, but in each instance an adequate description will be given concerning the subject, the object of the Guide being to answer practically all questions which the tourist or the resident may ask concerning Southern California.

MME. DIS DEBAR IN NEW ROLE.

BACK FROM ENGLISH CELL TO TEACH PERPETUAL LIFE.

Woman Who Victimized New York Millionaire and Served Seven Years in Prison Found in Mahatma Institute at New York Where She Was Known as "Adiva Veedya."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mme. Dis Debar, who achieved fame and a term of seven years in an English prison after victimizing Luther Marsh, an aged millionaire of this city, is here again and has been teaching how to live forever.

This was admitted today by Mrs. Lillian Hobart French, who resides over the Mahatma Institute, at No. 32 West Thirty-third street, where the philosophy of perpetual life is taught behind windows heavily curtained with white silk, in a room dimly lighted and heavy with incense.

Mrs. French declared she had not known Dis Debar's identity nor had she known that the woman's coadjutor was David Livingston Mackay, who in 1907 fled from Detroit with Mother Elinor Mason, who turned out to be Dis Debar.

Mrs. French explained that the couple met her at the New Thought church in Carnegie Hall, and that Dis Debar was introduced to her as "Adiva Veedya." Mrs. French said she invited them to become teachers of physical immortality in her institute but when shown a picture of Dis Debar today she recognized the woman and ordered both out.

Mrs. French said when the woman was accused she denied being Dis Debar but the picture settled it, and she insisted on their leaving. She said she did not know where they had gone.

Inspector McCafferty, on learning today of the presence of Dis Debar in the city, ordered the detectives to find her and bring her to police headquarters.

ESCAPES HIGHWAYMEN.

Farmer, Held Up, Knocks Robber Over Cliff and Dodges Shots of Second One.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

RED BLUFF, Aug. 25.—Henry Clark, a farmer living west of Tehama, engaged in a desperate fight with two highwaymen last night, escaping with his life and $300 in cash which the bandits had desired to secure.

Clark was driving homeward after disposing of some cattle when he was halted at the point of a gun, and forced to step out of his buggy. Seeing a favorable opportunity, he struck one of the highwaymen in the temple, knocking him over the edge of a bluff. Regaining his seat in the buggy, the farmer lashed his horse into a gallop, escaping, despite the fact that the second robber fired three shots.

A gain of 2145 has helped Florence Barlow past the 25,000 mark and she needs but 2000 more to capture twenty-seventh place from Sterling Scheck who gained 110 yesterday.

Frank Maine gained 1500 and is very near the 300,000 mark.

Stanley Carnahan thought a gain of 1200 would take him ahead of Lillian Waite, but the "Lily of the Valley" fooled him by making a gain of 1625 herself. Try again, Stanley!

Caryl B. Runkel is out again after a severe illness. He registered a gain of 480, yesterday, and is very eager to get past the 25,000 mark before the end of the week. Caryl's early life was spent at an army post, as his grandfather, Dr. McIlvain was a surgeon in the regular army, and his father was chief musician of the Eighth United States Infantry, while stationed at Fort Russell, Wyo. Caryl has decided artistic talent and he hopes to win an art scholarship.

Edward Waller made a gain of 300 points yesterday and remains in forty-first place.

David Boardman made a gain of 225 and remains in sixteenth place.

David Hughes of Tucson, Ariz., received a windfall of 100 points and remains in twenty-fifth place. David ought to be at Venice today to help the Hassayampers to celebrate. It is a long while since he has made any progress in the contest and if he does not look out he will soon be down and out.

Fannie Swem, daughter of a Spanish war veteran is "tenting on the old camp ground," with the Southern California Veterans' Association, at Camp Chaffee, Huntington Beach, this week. She writes that she will report progress not later than next Saturday, as she does not wish a "dishonorable discharge" from the contest. She enlisted for the entire contest and intends to stick to it until "taps" is sounded for the last time, whether she wins or loses. Fannie is a brave and patriotic girl and worthy of every old soldier's support.

Carl Miehle has taken a job as bell boy at the Glenwood Tavern, Riverside, but he has not given up hopes of winning a scholarship. His aunt, Mrs. W. B. Lathrop, who is his guardian, wants him to secure a college education.

Emma Tennesen is sick abed. She had a severe attack of appendicitis not long before she entered the contest and has never fully recovered her normal health.

Ruth Ferguson is suffering from a painful boil on her left forearm and carries her hand in a sling. Although suffering much pain, she refuses to give up work in the contest. Ruth teaches a class of little girls in the University Christian Church Sunday-school and is one of the most industrious and altogether most charming girls in the contest. There is none more deserving of help to win a scholarship.

The leaders for the special prizes for the best results during the present week are:

First division—Raymond Austin, with a gain of 17,043. Next in line: Murray Royar, 13,225; Amos Colborn, 10,025.

Second division—Helen C. Wilson, 24,200. Next in line: Edwina Lloyd, 8175; Florence Barlow, 3370; Stanley Carnahan, 3170.

Third division—Sherman Hall, 3025. Next in line: Caryl B. Runkel, 760; Edward Waller, 300.

PIANO AND VOICE.

DE CHAUVENET CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC AND DRAMATIC ART.

Mme. Jean de Chauvenet, vocal instructor, who has a pure soprano voice of sweetness and power.

OF SPECIAL interest to contestants desirous of winning a scholarship for musical instruction is the scholarship in the above-named institution that is offered as one of the prizes to be awarded at the close of The Times scholarship contest.

The pupil winning this scholarship can take either a course in piano or vocal instruction, consisting of fifty lessons by a competent instructor, for which the usual charge is $4 per lesson, making the value of the scholarship $190.

Jean de Chauvenet, dean of the De Chauvenet Conservatory of Music and Dramatic Art, has a reputation as a master of the piano and organ that is excelled by few teachers of music on the Pacific Coast. He has testimonials of a most flattering character from a number of States in which he has taught or given public recitals, including Illinois, Idaho, Oregon, Texas, Nebraska, Washington, Missouri, Oklahoma, Wisconsin, Iowa, Michigan and California. He has studied with some of the most eminent teachers of Europe and America, taught in three universities and traveled two years as a concert pianist.

In his work as director of the conservatory of music and dramatic art which he has founded in Los Angeles he is ably seconded by his talented wife, Mme. de Chauvenet, who has a pure soprano voice of much sweetness and power and who is said to possess more than ordinary gifts as an instructor. She was graduated from the Des Moines Music College, took a post-graduate course under F. M. English of London, Eng., and also studied the Italian and French methods under several celebrated artists. Mme. de Chauvenet in her vocal instruction adheres principally to the Garcia-Lamperti methods, which follow closely the old Italian school.

The De Chauvenet studio is located in the Fraternal Brotherhood building, No. 345 South Figueroa street, and is easily accessible from any part of the city. A residence studio is also maintained at No. 865 East Forty-seventh street.

OCCIDENTAL CHANGE.

Head of Chemistry Department Goes to Missouri, Former Pomona Man Succeeds Him.

Dr. Louis Agassis Test, who for the last two years has been the head of the chemistry department of Occidental College, has secured an important position with the School of Mines of the University of Missouri. President Baer keenly regrets the loss of Dr. Test from the faculty.

Dr. Albert E. Chandler, formerly of Pomona, will be his successor. Dr. Chandler is a graduate of William Jewel College, and he did his advanced work for his LL. B. at the University of Michigan, and then got his Ph. D. at the University of Chicago, under the same leader that Dr. Test did.

"We know that Dr. Chandler will make good, because of his record at Pomona College," said President Baer, yesterday. Dr. Chandler is on the ground, having moved his family from Claremont to Highland Park.

With eighty counties "dry" the State Beer Inspector finds that more beer was drunk in Missouri last month than in any previous June on record. We are evidently on the threshold of a discovery in physics or physiology. Perhaps thirsts vary directly as the ratio of the distance from beer.—(New York Tribune.

THE MARKETS.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Canaba melons are coming into the market in much larger quantities, and yesterday morning a drop of 25 cents per crate was made in the price. Damson plums are scarce and went up a little. This year's crop is nearly consumed, and it is probable that storage stock will be placed on the market in a few days. There were not so many Concord grapes on the market as the day before, and a small advance was made in prices. The berry market was quiet and raspberries were a little scarce. Ventura and Fresno County figs both black and white, were plentiful and a decrease of 25 cents per box was made.

No change in the price of Eastern eggs, which was made Tuesday, did not last long, and yesterday was lowered again. Eastern fresh dropped to 20 cents and Eastern storage to 19 cents. Offerings of Eastern fresh were made as much as 5 cents under the quotations, but were not sold. A few cases of local case count were bought. Arrivals for the day were 129 cases.

The butter market still continued a little weak. California creamery extras and firsts, and ladle butter, were offered, but the only bid was in creamery firsts. Receipts were 31,400 pounds.

The most activity in the cheese market was in Eastern daisy and Oregon daisy. Northern fresh, Eastern cheddars and imported swiss were offered but none taken. Calls were made for Eastern twins, but none were offered. Total receipts were 3285 pounds.

Choice local Early Rose, fancy Highlands and local Burbank potatoes were placed on the market but none sold. Yellow sweets were offered at 1½, but not taken. Potato arrivals were 2822 sacks, sweets 194 sacks.

The only onion sales reported were in northern Australians. There was a fair offering of local yellow Danvers, choice Bermudas and garlic. Receipts of onions were 94 sacks.

Calls were made for extracted W. W., extracted white and light amber honey and beeswax, but there was none on the market. A small advance was made in walnut prices and a few No. 1 softshells were sold. Some California popcorn was sold at 2.00.

Peas, green string beans and egg plant went up a little, and Brussels sprouts were put on the market at 10 cents. Two carloads of apples arrived, and several boxes of Alpine Gravensteins were sold.

The wholesale fish market was pretty well cleaned up and barracuda and halibut were very scarce. The demand for poultry was large with the supply very small.

Friendship "Rewarded."

Newton Modeland met a stranger while drinking Tuesday night and took him to his room at No. 324 North Main street to sleep. Forester Gifford Pinchot will arrive in Los Angeles September 3, for a stay of one or two days, according to a letter received yesterday by R. H. Chariton, supervisor of the Angeles reserve. Several subjects relative to the protection of Southwestern forests will be discussed by Mr. Pinchot. He will afterward go to San Diego for a brief stay, and to the islands to fish.

At Large in Underclothes.

Arthur Runnels, a drug user, escaped from the insane ward of the County Hospital Tuesday night. The police have been asked to make a diligent search for him, as it is feared he will suffer from exposure, being clad only in his underclothes. Runnels was arraigned on a charge of insanity several days ago and sent to the hospital for observation. As he did not appear violent, he was granted liberties and took advantage of them when his keepers were not watching him closely.

Bernardo Reyes, candidate for the Vice-Presidency of the republic, and the Federal government.

Hudson-River-Discovery Stamp.

The Postoffice Department had announced that there will be ready for issue about September 20, and placed on sale, September 25, a new 2-cent postage stamp to commemorate the discovery of the Hudson River by Henry Hudson in 1609, and of the introduction of steam navigation on its waters by Robert Fulton in 1807. The new stamp is oblong in shape, about seven-eighths by one and three-eighths inches in size, and comprises a border containing at the top the inscription, "Hudson-Fulton Celebration," with the dates "1609" and "1909" immediately thereunder on either side, and below this inscription in a curved line are the words, "U. S. Postage." At the bottom on each side, is a prominent Arabic numeral "2," with the words "Two Cents," in a panel between the figures. In the center is engraved a picture showing the Palisades of the Hudson River, in the background, with the Half Moon sailing up the river, and the Clermont steaming in the opposite direction. In the foreground is an Indian in a canoe, and in the distance, just discernable, is a canoe containing four other Indians, the canoes representing the first means of navigating the river. The stamp will be printed in the same color as the regular 2-cent stamp.

CHINESE BOYCOTT ENGLISH.

British Legation Appeals to Peking to Interfere and Orders Are Issued.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PEKING, Aug. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Following strong representations by the British legation, instructions were sent today to the Viceroy of Nanking and the Governor of Kiangsi to adopt the most repressive measures to stamp out the boycott against the British along the Yangste River. The movement is the outcome of the killing of a Chinaman by Police Inspector Mears at Kiu Kiang. Inspector Mears was acquitted by the consular court.

The Chinese allege this was a miscarriage of justice and are actively agitating the boycott, which is spreading throughout the valley. The British charge that the agitation is largely attributed to the American missionaries' too great sympathy for the Chinese.

Prince Tsai Hsun, the prince regent's brother, is to visit America in November. The Prince is president of the new navy board and will investigate the navies of several nations.

ADVENTUROUS.

WOMEN SPAN A CONTINENT.

From Ocean to Ocean They Travel in Auto.

Reach Los Angeles Brimming With Enthusiasm.

Over Four Thousand Miles Is Feminine Record.

Two women, in a large, four-cylinder motor car, reached Los Angeles yesterday from Hackensack, N. J., having finished the longest automobile tour ever undertaken without male companions. They are Mrs. N. R. Powell and Mrs. William Atwood of Hackensack, who have traveled 4478 miles in the touring car. Mrs. Fred J. Linz of San Francisco made the last leg of the trip with them.

The three women left San Francisco Sunday morning and came by the coast route. The car climbed the Chatsworth grade yesterday during the hottest time of the day, and the women reached San Fernando with the thermometer registering over 100 degs. in the shade.

Weeks ago, Mrs. Powell and Mrs. Atwood, with Mrs. W. J. Ramsay driving, left Hackensack in the four-cylinder Maxwell car for a journey across the continent. They decided to dispense with the services of a man. The women were to drive and act as their own mechanicians. Each had handled a car and each understood the machinery, including the motor.

ADVENTUROUS TRIP.

Over the worst roads in America they toured, and many nights they were far from any habitation. Undaunted, they made the journey, reaching San Francisco after an adventurous trip.

At San Francisco Mrs. Ramsay relinquished the wheel and took the train for her home. Mrs. Linz took Mrs. Ramsay's place, and the car continued its run to Los Angeles, the objective point.

Covered with dust, the women drove over the miserable roads along the route, which have been chopped into a series of small hillocks by heavy teaming. When near Los Angeles they were welcomed by a group of enthusiastic autoists in motor cars. J. S. Conwell, manager of the Maxwell-Briscoe Motor Car Company of this city, and Clarence Smith met the women at Ventura and piloted them into Los Angeles. They will be entertained here by Mr. Conwell during their stay of a week.

ARE FALSE PROPHETS.

When the women began the long automobile journey from the Atlantic to the Pacific, many prophesied the tour would be abandoned long before the Rocky Mountains were reached. The women heard what was said and determined to make the trip as they had planned.

With suit cases piled into the tonneau, and with enough provisions to keep them from hunger in case they were obliged to camp out, the motor was cranked and the car began its long run.

There were days, after the car reached Wyoming, when the women were miles from railroad or telegraph communication. They passed through the wilderness, and at night the wolves howled. Suspicious looking tramps eyed them on the road. It was an unusual sight to see a big touring car, containing only women, making its way through the wildest country of the West.

At times the women wondered if they had been wise to undertake such a journey. They were so many miles from home, however, that it was too late to reconsider their decision. They had started and must keep on.

GIVEN OVATIONS.

Ovations given them in several of the larger cities encouraged them to press on. As they neared the Pacific Coast the roads became rougher and the going necessarily slower. The Maxwell gave them little trouble and they were not compelled to test their knowledge of the machinery.

"We were just a little bit afraid," said Mrs. Atwood yesterday, as she arranged her veil while standing on the porch of a little hotel in San Fernando. "It is not reassuring to hear wolves howl across a lonely plain at night, when you are far away from any house. Of course there were times when we wished our husbands had decided to make the trip with us. We are glad we came, however, as it has been a wonderful experience.

"We passed through miles of wonderful country. We witnessed sights we never could have seen from a train. If we had only been men we could have shot game almost anywhere after leaving Chicago. Our trip has been a fine experience for each one of us, and we do not regret any of the rough going. We are ready to make it again if need be. Our car is in fine shape and could make the run back home."

READY FOR MORE.

Mrs. Powell is equally enthusiastic and is as ready for more adventures as her companion. She says she enjoyed every minute of the trip and would not have missed it for a fortune. It was the real adventure of her life, she says, and was one of the most enjoyable tours ever taken.

Mrs. Linz, who drove the last leg of the tour, is one of the most daring woman drivers in the West. "Ted" Holmes accompanied the three women from San Francisco.

Mrs. Linz is so confident of her ability to handle a machine that she is planning to bring a Maxwell through without a man in the car.

She wants to start from San Francisco early some morning on a try for the automobile road record.

Mrs. Fred J. Linz, of San Francisco, at the wheel of the car which Mrs. W. J. Ramsay drove from Hackensack, N. J., to San Francisco. Mrs. Linz, with Mrs. N. R. Powell and Mrs. William Atwood, who made the tour with Mrs. Ramsay, reached Los Angeles yesterday in the car.

RECALL REFORM STIRS A MUSS.

VETO LIGHTNING MAY STRIKE "INSURGENT PLANS."

Ajax from Bear Valley Gets Busy With Council and "Busts" Scheme for Three San Pedro Health Officers and for Commission to Direct Settlement Nurses.

Ajax has defied the lightning—again. This time the Ajax is the strenuous Dr. Sherwin Gibbons, of the recall board of health, and the lightning is the wrath of your Uncle Aleck, whilom Mayor.

Dr. Gibbons disagrees with the Board of Health and Health Officer Powers on two things, and when he found that advantage had been taken in his absence to steer out of the course indicated by him on the recall chart he issued his defi and sallied forth.

Into the Council Chamber he strode yesterday, mighty as the epic hero, bronsed with a two weeks' hike in Bear Valley, where he won a treefelling Marathon, or something of the kind. He found the voluble Council discussing the request of Dr. Powers for two additional sanitary inspectors for the new port regions.

"That's foolish," said the doctor, interjecting a shorter and stronger word. "One inspector is numerous for the work there."

The Council gasped. It had just brutally deprived the Tax Collector of two of the three deputies he thought he needed and had tried to reason other officials out of their requests for help. For an official to ask a reduction in number was unheard of. It was an hour before "Barney" Healy rounded to; but that was half an hour too late.

Dr. Gibbons reiterated, more emphatically, in effect, that two inspectors would be a big crowd in San Pedro, and that one would be an abundance. So the Council allowed one.

Dr. Powers thought he had reduced the number considerably, for the San Pedro Committee asked three inspectors. But Dr. Powers had not consulted Dr. Gibbons, who was in Bear Valley pulling up live oak by the roots and otherwise getting near to nature.

Dr. Gibbons also has a crow to pick

WARMING UP.

OSWALD STORY DENIED FLATLY.

Former Police Chief Gives Lie to "Boss."

Declares There Was No Pact Between Them.

Had Orders to Close "Cribs" from Harper.

Spectators in Judge Davis's courtroom were aroused from their lethargy, yesterday afternoon, when Ed Kern, former Chief of Police, was called as a witness for Broadhead. The jurors also straightened up in their seats to hear what the alleged accomplice of Harper, Sam Schenck and Broadhead would say as to his relations with Nicholas D. Oswald, the confessed bribe-giver.

Until Kern's coming, about 4 o'clock, the testimony had been of the dreariest kind. Policemen who had been on the stand the previous day, were recalled to give their impressions about disorderly houses in this city. Attorney Appel offered to eliminate this kind of testimony provided the District Attorney would stipulate bawdy houses are still running in the city. Capt. Fredericks declined to be led into any such compromise.

In reply to a few preliminary questions, Kern stated he was born in Iowa, forty-eight years ago. He said he was brought up on a farm, and when a young man went to Colorado. From there he went to New Mexico and Arizona. He was in railroad work for some time and also was in the employ of the government.

GIVES OSWALD LIE.

After coming to Los Angeles, the witness said he secured employment with an ice company. From that employment he drafted into the City Council, as a full-fledged statesman. He said he was appointed Chief of Police, November, 1906.

Appel then asked Kern a series of questions tending to show that the witness had no knowledge of Oswald, other than that he was a notorious "tenderloin" boss. Reading from the transcript of Oswald's testimony, the attorney inquired of the witness in regard to his version of the alleged meetings between Harper, Kern and Oswald.

"I will ask you whether or not you had any conversation with Oswald at your office in January, 1907, A. C. Harper being present?"

"I did not."

"In January or the early part of February of that same year, did you have a conversation with Oswald, in which he told you he was ready to open up the Ballerino cribs, and wanted you to close the Arlington?"

"I never had any such conversation with him," replied Kern earnestly.

DENIAL IN DETAIL.

"And did you tell him to go ahead and open up the cribs?"

"I never did. I did not have any conversation with Oswald on this point."

"Did Oswald suggest he would at first put a few women in these cribs?"

"No. We never had any such conversation."

"Did Oswald ever tell you he was preparing the Ballerino property for houses of ill-fame?"

"He never did."

"Did he tell you he was ready to open up?"

"He never made any such statement."

"Did you tell him the papers were making a lot of noise about the Ballerino district?"

"No, sir."

"And did he say that he would put two or three women in there and have them arrested, and thus create an agitation?"

"No, sir."

ORDERED "CRIBS" CLOSED.

"Did you ever tell Oswald that it wouldnt be wise to close the Arlington just then?"

"Certainly not. We never had any conversation on this point."

Kern then stated that he had heard some one was making preparations to open the Ballerino "cribs," and that he at once informed Mayor Harper and the police commissioners.

"We met at Levy's for lunch," said Kern. "That afternoon we went down to Alameda street to look over the place. Workmen were fixing up the sidewalks and, as I remember it, the houses were being repaired. Both Cole and Woodill told me such places could not be allowed. I was informally notified that afternoon to prevent the opening of the cribs. Later, I received an official notice to the same effect. I gave orders to Capt. Auble, and I think to Capt. Broadhead, to look after the matter."

Kern said arrests immediately followed the opening of the Ballerino "cribs," and that they were later abandoned. He referred to an inspection of other places by the Mayor and the police commissioners. According to his best recollection, they ordered the lone, a North Main-street "crib" house, closed.

ORDERS FROM HARPER.

Kern said he got orders for the big raid of 1907 from Harper and his Police Commissioners. To his best recollection, George Beebe was Prosecuting Attorney, but he said it might have occurred about the time E. J. Fleming was appointed to the position.

"During March or April, 1907, did Oswald tell you he would purchase property for carrying on houses of prostitution?"

"No, sir, we had no such conversation."

"Did you have any discussion with Harper or Schenck upon this subject?"

"I did not."

"Did Harper or Schenck say there had been any agreement whereby the Ballerino district was to be opened?"

"No, sir."

"Was there any discussion of the inadvisability of having Oswald's name connected with the red-light district?"

"No, sir."

"Did Oswald speak to you in regard to securing property for the purpose of establishing houses of ill-fame?"

"No, sir."

WILL CALL HARPER.

Kern testified he left the city about June 6 for the convention of Chiefs of Police, which was held in Jamestown, Va. He said he did not return until the latter part of July.

He stated the closing of the Arling-

WINS FOR LOS ANGELES.

Local Railroad Man Succeeds in Having City Selected for Freight Claim Association Convention.

The next convention of the Freight Claim Association will be held in Los Angeles. This was decided at a conference just held in San Francisco between W. J. Healy, local general auditor for the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé Railway Company, and J. M. Brewer, freight claim agent of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company in the Bay City.

At the last convention held June 17, at Old Point Comfort, Va., it was unanimously requested that the next event come off in California. Sharp rivalry immediately arose between the members from San Francisco and Los Angeles. Mr. Brewer had strongly urged the former city as the ideal place for the next meeting, and it was only at the representations of Mr. Healy that he finally gave up his stand.

The Freight Claim Association comprises about 355 members, representing more than 214,000 miles of railways, of the United States, Canada, and Mexico. The object of the association is the prompt and equitable settlement of freight claims with claimants and between carriers. The officers are: J. S. Fustin, freight claim agent for the Missouri and Pacific Railway Company with headquarters at St. Louis, Mo.; W. J. Healy, auditor for the Santa Fé at Los Angeles, first vice-president; W. L. Stanley, second vice-president, freight claim agent for the Seaboard Air Line, with offices at Portsmouth, Va.; W. P. Taylor, secretary and treasurer, at Richmond, Va. A special entertainment committee, consisting of W. J. Healy, J. M. Brewer and M. E. McKinahan, local freight claim agent for the Salt Lake Railroad Company, was elected at the last convention with the power of deciding in which city of this State the coming meeting would be held.

The date of the meeting has been fixed for June 15, next. Besides the numerous business matters to be attended to, there will be several excursions to points of interest.

MAPS ROADS FOR AUTOS.

Bakersfield Motorist Preparing Full Details of Highways Between San Diego and Sacramento.

Maps showing complete details of all the roads between San Diego and Sacramento, are being prepared by C. A. Maino, president of the Bakersfield Motor Club, who is at the Hollenbeck. The Bakersfield man is using an automobile and trained civil engineers in the work of perfecting the map, and the distances beween points, degree of curve at the bends in the road, taverns, inns, and road houses will be plainly marked for the guidance of motorists.

If a road is smooth, rough, graded, hilly, or marshy, it will be recorded, and points of interest are also to be indicated for the benefit of sightseers.

For the benefit of those interested in oil fields all such localities will be indicated on the map, and the number of producing wells will be recorded. The map when completed, will be printed, but the copies will not be sold, they are to be given to Bakersfield motorists.

CRUEL.

HEART TRUST IS BETRAYED.

Tragedy of Her Romance Is Faced by Bride.

Girl Deceived by Man She Thinks Her Husband.

Wife He Deserted Appeals to the Police.

Rather than give up the love of a young girl, whose pretty face attracted him, David H. McMullen of Los Angeles, a mechanical engineer, the son of a well-known Memphis (Tenn.) business man, has wrecked two homes. Today circulars are being sent throughout the State proclaiming him a fugitive from justice and commanding his arrest on charges of wife-abandonment and the abduction of Hazel George, 17 years old.

McMullen is in hiding with the girl who believes she is his lawful wife. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. George of No. 1025 West Twenty-third street, and the deserted wife, have joined forces in seeking the elopers.

The police say McMullen's latest escapade is in harmony with a checkered career in which he used the names of Harry H. McMullen and H. A. Markham.

During McMullen's residence in Los Angeles he worked as a street-car motorman. Miss George rode on his car and in this manner they became acquainted. He sought permission to call at her home and it was granted.

He is a fine-appearing man, of pleasing address. He readily won a welcome at the George residence. He carefully concealed the fact that he was married, and it was not once suspected.

McMullen found various excuses for being away from his wife and three children, who reside at No. 448 Savannah street. He spent this time in entertaining Miss George by taking her to the theater and to the beaches.

SECRET WEDDING.

He finally won the consent of the girl to marry him. The parents were not unfavorable to the match, but thought their daughter should wait until she was older. But she was persuaded by McMullen to plan a secret wedding.

They went to Long Beach last Friday. Some kind of a marriage ceremony was performed. The police declare it was a mock marriage, as there is no record of a license being issued to them.

When the girl returned home that night, she told her parents she was the wife of McMullen.

Mrs. George chided the girl for running away to be married.

"It's all right, mother," the daughter replied. "Harry is the very soul of honor."

Miss George did not suspect the man

PUBLIC SERVICE—OFFICIAL DOINGS.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

A general increase of $5 a month for all firemen except higher officers was passed by the Council yesterday.

Carrie M. Perkins filed a petition yesterday to be appointed guardian of the person and property of her daughter, Mrs. Nina P. Lee of Pasadena, who, she alleges, has squandered $100,000 of her fortune.

Mrs. Elizabeth McGivren asked the court yesterday to allow her to adopt Charlotte Marian Bennett, daughter of Susana Bottiller, one of the heirs to the Bottiller estate, and a bitter fight is assured.

Property owners along Fourth street went into court yesterday and enjoined the sale of their real estate by the city on account of assessments for the improvement and widening of that thoroughfare.

Justice Rose listened to evidence against five spiritualists, charged with violating the license ordinance and child labor law, for several hours yesterday, and then threw the cases out of court on account of faulty complaints and insufficient evidence.

D. W. Tyo, a barber, was arrested yesterday on charges of beating his wife and of taking jewelry owned by a young girl to whom he had been making love when his spouse was not around.

Two ice men were arraigned before Justice Williams yesterday for fighting to uphold the reputations of the respective companies they worked for.

AT THE CITY HALL.

FIREMEN'S PAY IS INCREASED.

COUNCIL FINDS A WAY TO END THE CONTROVERSY.

Four-fifths of the Members Will Get Increase of Five Dollars Monthly, Which Is an Improvement Over the Recommendation of the Fire Commission.

Unexpectedly the fire department increase of salaries appeared before the Council yesterday afternoon and what seemed to be a hopeless deadlock until the return of Councilmen Blanchard and Dromgold turned into a unanimous vote for the increase. It was not so general as Lyon had proposed Tuesday nor so meager as the recall Police Commission had gingerly given consent to, but it was a whole lot more than had seemed possible.

That it was possible was due to explanations by City Auditor Mushet, who showed that the increase proposed by Lyon and that proposed by the Budget Committee were not very far apart. The Auditor showed that the schedule of the committee included all the members of the department except eleven first-class captains and nine first-class engineers and twenty-eight lieutenants. The compromise accepted by the Council included the lieutenants, but omitted the captains and engineers.

The net result is that 190 members receive an increase of $5 a month each above the present rating, except the third-year firemen, who will remain at $80, and not get an increase until their fourth year. The grade for firemen is: First year, $80; second, $85; third, $90; fourth, $95. All others get the $5 increase except the chief, his assistant, the battalion chiefs and the first-class engineers and captains. The number not affected by the increase is forty-seven. The actual increase in pay roll will be about $12,000.

Before this decision was reached, the Council spent the whole afternoon debating other salary ordinances. When the session was over there was no one who pretended to say how many thousands had been added to the city's pay roll which already consumes about two-thirds of the total revenue. Increases made and not made were as follows:

Boiler inspectors—Proposed increase to $125 defeated, and raise to $120 for three men adopted.

Oil inspector—Increase to $175, instead of $200, as requested by the Budget Committee.

Health department—Two meat inspectors increased to $125.

Assessment bureau—Frank Palomares and W. G. Schreiber increased to $100.

Street department—Superintendent Lawa increased from $175 to $190; eighteen additional laborers, and several small increases in the pay of subordinates.

Engineer—Fourteen sewer flushers increased from $80 to $85, and one assistant engineer from $195 to $200.

By reducing its force of linemen one man and saving $90 a month the fire-alarm bureau asked this amount in increases for its other members, but the Council refused and no increase was made.

TOO MANY ENGINEERS?
DEPUTIES FOR SAN PEDRO.

The Council was unable to complete its work in providing assistants for the city officials in the extension of government to San Pedro and Wilmington yesterday, and it will hold another session this afternoon for this purpose exclusively. The situation was clear until the last minute, when the City Engineer sent in an estimate that he will want eleven men costing $1400 a month for his work there, some at once and others in the near future. The Council was so amazed at the number asked that it postponed all consideration until the Engineer can explain. Except for police, this number is as many as all the other departments require.

How to take care of the former employes of San Pedro under the new régime and not violate the civil-service law is giving the officials some concern. Chief Lips is anxious to give J. C. Bailey, who has been chief of the San Pedro fire force for six years, the captaincy that will be created, as he believes Bailey is a good fireman. But the civil-service law interposes some apparent obstacles that the lawyers will have to remove if they can.

NEW LIQUOR LAW.
COUNCIL DELAYS ACTION.

Councilman Lyon has introduced an ordinance amending the ordinance regulating the hours during which liquor may not be sold and also fixing the minimum quantity that may be sold by wholesalers at ten ounces. He explained that this change is needed because much of the liquor sold by wholesale houses, particularly groceries, comes in pint quantites and ten ounces is regarded as a commercial pint.

The ordinance also has a new feature in that it fixes the hours during which a wholesale store may not sell. These hours are from 9:30 o'clock at night until 8 o'clock the next morning except on Saturdays and days before holidays when they may sell until 1 o'clock in the morning.

Another ordinance amends the wholesale permit ordinance to conform with the changes above.

The Council declined to even discuss the ordinance until its full membership is here and action was postponed until September 28.

City Hall Notes.

At the request of the City Electrician the Council has increased the fee for issuing electrical permits from 75 cents to $1. This is because the new territory will make increased work and also because the work of the office is outgrowing its income.

The Board of Public Works has instructed the City Engineer to make a survey of Wilmington and prepare plans for the improvement of the downtown streets and also for a sewer system.

The City Attorney and H. I. Thomas, expert of the Auditor's office, will go to San Pedro and Wilmington today to receive the books of the various city officials and examine them. It is likely that Mr. Thomas will make an expert examination of all books for the Auditor's office.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

FOR HER LIFE AND FORTUNE.

MOTHER ASKS THE CONTROL OF DAUGHTER'S FUTURE.

Petitions for Guardianship of Wealthy Pasadena Woman, Who Is in Sanatorium, on Ground That She Has Squandered One Hundred Thousand Dollars in High Living.

A stubborn struggle involving the appointment of a guardian for the person and property of Mrs. Nina P. Lee of Pasadena will begin in Judge Wilbur's court next Tuesday, when the petition of the mother, Mrs. Carrie M. Perkins, for the naming of such a conservator, will be up for the action of the court.

It is alleged by those who know the details of the life recently led by Mrs. Lee, that the developments will be of the most sensational character, involving the squandering of more than $100,000 in the past two years, with the names of sundry male friends bandied about, who assisted the unfortunate woman in dissipating the money.

The petition filed yesterday by Mrs. Perkins alleges that Mrs. Lee is twenty-nine years of age, that she is so addicted to the use of intoxicating liquors and deleterious drugs that she is no longer a suitable person to care for her person or her property. It is further set out in the complaint that Mrs. Lee is at this time possessed of the home, No. 280 Bellefontaine avenue, Pasadena, worth $20,000, that her personal effects are worth $3000, and that she has "certain securities, the value and description of which are unknown to your petitioner."

In the examination of Mrs. Lee, in Judge Wilbur's court, Tuesday, she stated that she is worth $100,000, and that is, approximately, the value of her estate, according to the information of those conversant with her affairs.

At the time of the partial hearing, Mrs. Lee did not object to the court sending her to a sanatorium, where she might be treated, but afterward she demanded a jury trial on the question of her insanity, and under the law the court was compelled to grant her request, but no date has been set for it.

The complaint alleging insanity, and its disposition by Judge Wilbur, was followed yesterday by the petition asking for the appointment of Mrs. Perkins as guardian of Mrs. Lee, and this will be vigorously resisted. It is stated by her friends, and the hearing promises to be one of the most sensational heard in a Los Angeles court in recent years.

Mrs. Perkins belongs to one of the best known families of Cleveland, O., and came to Pasadena about two months ago, in the hope that she might induce her daughter to abandon her way of living, but her entreaties were to no purpose, and she has taken the present course as the only one available in the crisis of Mrs. Lee's affairs.

VIOLATES PAROLE.
YOUNG OFFENDER WANTED.

Probation Officer Dodds is looking for Gerald F. Muir, charged with violation of the terms of his parole. Young Muir, who is one of two heirs entitled to an estate worth $40,000, was admitted to probation over a year ago by Judge Wilbur, he having been found guilty of forging a check for $10 on the State Bank and Trust Company. It was cashed by J. J. Farley, a bartender, March 2, 1908. At the time of the hearing he was charged with defrauding a hardware establishment out of $15 by a forged check, but the complaint was not pushed.

A few days ago a telephone message was received by the business house that was victimized out of the $15, purporting to come from the executor of the Muir estate, saying that he (the speaker) had given a check to young Muir for $40, which he hoped the firm would cash, but first taking out the $15 that the boy had swindled them out of on the former occasion. In a little while, Muir presented himself to the house and the check was cashed, $25 being paid over to the boy. It was soon discovered that the check was a forgery—hence the hunt for Muir.

Some time ago it came to the knowledge of Dodds that Muir had secured money on several checks on the Glendale Bank, but these were fixed up by his family and friends. Hubert T. Morrow is guardian of the boy. The father of the accused was John A. Muir, a well-known railroad man of Los Angeles, who died about six years ago, leaving a comfortable estate for his family.

VALUE OF A NAME.
INTERESTING POINT MADE.

The petition of the Los Angeles Trust Company to change its name to the Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank, was argued in Judge Wilbur's court yesterday. Usually the request of a corporation for a change of name is a matter of mere form, but in this instance a vigorous objection has been urged by the Los Angeles Savings Bank, by reason of the similarity of the names.

The protesting corporation alleged that since 1884 it had been organized and existed as a savings bank; that in twenty-five years it had secured a good will that was of value, and that the name by which it was known throughout the business world, was a thing of value. It was further urged that the name proposed was, in greater part, a duplicate of the name of the contestant, and that if the applicant is allowed to adopt the name proposed, while the contestant is in lawful possession of the name, the Los Angeles Savings Bank will suffer great confusion and embarrassment will result.

On the part of the Los Angeles Trust Company it was denied that the similarity of names would create any trouble, and authorities were cited to show that in all large cities there was a similarity of names in corporations, and that, under the decisions of the courts, such nomenclature was allowable.

Judge Wilbur took the matter under advisement, asking counsel to submit authorities bearing upon the contention.

ROSEBROUGH A JOKER.
HUMOR IN HIS WILL.

The will of Joseph P. Rosebrough, who died in this city, August 20, indicates that he was quite a funny man, even if he was 70 years of age when death met him. The instrument was filed in the Probate Court yesterday, and Clara Della Weaver, the sole beneficiary of the will, was nominated executrix, without bond.

After providing for the payment of his debts, the will goes on to say:

"I declare that I am not a married man, and that I have no children. But if any person should claim that they are my children and establish such proof, I hereby give to each one of such persons $1."

It further provides that the residue of the estate shall go to "my friend, Clara Della Weaver, of Los Angeles," and she is to have all of the money in the bank to his credit, "notes, bills, bonds, mortgages, real and personal property," a list that sounds like the schedule of a millionaire, but the petition recites that all Rosebrough died possessed of is an estate worth $934, and a part of that is a lot in Spring Grove Cemetery, Cincinnati.

The will was signed by some one other than the testator, for he appends "his mark." It was executed August 19, 1903, the day before the death of Rosebrough.

APPRAISER NAMED.
HOLLYWOOD HOTEL TANGLE.

The financial troubles of Margaret J. Anderson, of the Hollywood Hotel, were discussed in Judge Wilbur's court yesterday. Miss Myra Hershey, owner of the property, recently filed a complaint against her tenant, asking for judgment in $11,141.40, including interest, for rent unpaid on the hostelry.

In August, 1907, Miss Hershey executed a lease for five years to Margaret J. Anderson, who agreed to pay $1831.19 per month rent for the premises, which would be 9 per cent. on a valuation of $244,159.36 of the hotel property. The lease was to run from March 1, 1907, to May 1, 1912. Since taking possession of the hotel, the defendant has fallen behind in the payment of the rent in the sum indicated. With the prayer for judgment against Mrs. Anderson, was also a petition for her ejectment from the hotel.

With the serving of the complaint the defendant arranged to mortgage a lot of property, alleged at yesterday's hearing, to be worth from $50,000 to $60,000, with a view to raising the money to pay the claim, but about this time all of the property in the name of the defendant was attached, and it was impossible for her to get the money. In the meantime, tenders of the money alleged to be due by the defendant, were tendered to Myra Hershey, and refused by her attorney.

The matter came up in Judge Wilbur's court yesterday, on the motion to have an appraiser appointed, with a view to releasing from attachment some of the property, thus giving the defendant an opportunity to raise the money by mortgage to settle the bill. As it formerly stood everything was tied up by attachment.

It was stated on the part of the defendant that the plaintiff occupied several of the best rooms in the Hollywood Hotel, for a long time, for which she had refused to pay and that the dispute in regard to the amount due arose from that fact. She had also refused to pay for her meals, it is alleged. Miss Hershey and Mrs. Anderson have been close friends for years. L. D. C. Gray was appointed by the court to appraise the property, and make his report Friday, when the matter will be adjudicated in some way.

RESTRAINING ORDER.
FOURTH-STREET IMPROVEMENT.

Two of the property owners who did not join with John J. Lang and about 200 others in restraining the Board of Public Works from offering their real estate for sale to satisfy assessments made for the improvement and widening of Fourth street, from Alameda street to Boyle avenue, went into court, yesterday, and secured an order from Judge Wilbur restraining the board from offering such property tomorrow.

The parties interested are W. H. Harrelson, who owns lots Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4, in Harrelson's tract; and J. Frank Bowen, who owns lots Nos. 165, 166 and 167, in the Mills and Wicks addition to the extension of Second street.

This action ties up all of the property involved in the proposed improvement until the matter can be heard on its merits in Judge Houser's court at the conclusion of his summer vacation.

ADOPTION OF CHILD.
FIGHT IS IN SIGHT.

J. J. McGivren and his wife, Elisabeth McGivren, of No. 222 Thorn street, in Garvanza, filed an action in the Superior Court yesterday, asking that they be allowed to adopt Charlotte Marian Bennett, the daughter of Susana Bottiller, an unmarried heir to the Bottiller estate, estimated to be worth a quarter of a million dollars.

There is an interesting story behind the legal document filed last night. When Miss Bottiller gave birth to the child, about three years ago, John Bennett, a man aged about 70 years, was arrested and charged with being its father. The mother being under age (she is not yet 18 years old,) Bennett was sent to San Quentin for a long term of years. It is now said that Bennett was not the father of the baby at all, and that efforts will soon be made looking toward his release.

As soon as the baby was born it was given over to Mrs. McGivren by the mother, and she had the care and custody of the infant until July 20, last, when, on the pretext that it was desired to get its picture, the babe was taken away, and is now supposed to be at the home of Oscar Chaves, No. 2627 South Main street, the other heirs to the Bottiller property, who are interested in having its custody. Judge Wilbur made an order last night that the child be brought into court, when the question of the adoption is to be determined.

The troubles of Susana Bottiller have occupied the attention of the Juvenile Court considerably of late, and only last week Judge Wilbur declared the girl a delinquent, and ordered her taken to one of the institutions of the city for her care. Mrs. McGivren says that the child was given to her by the mother when it was but a few days old, and that there is in existence a signed agreement to that effect. The mother and other heirs of the Bottiller money will oppose the adoption of the baby by Mrs. McGivren, who says she wants to make it one of her own.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.
BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

CHANGE OF NAME. Judge Wilbur yesterday granted the petition of the Highland Park Ebell Association to change its name to Highland Park Ebell. The last-named corporation is the owner of real estate, and it was thought best to have the names the same. The Ebell Association is an organization of women engaged in literary and other pursuits.

ALL TO WIFE. The will of Oliver C. Whitsell, who died in Pasadena, August 11, was offered for probate yesterday. The estate, valued at $9500, consisting mostly of a small orange grove in Orange county, and the home in Pasadena, is left to the wife of the testator, Sarah A. Whitsell.

ASKS ANNULLMENT. Charles F. Hutchins, through his guardian, Lester A. Hutchins, brought an action in the Superior Court yesterday against Ada C. Hutchins, asking for the annullment of the marriage of the pair on May 16, last. It is alleged that at the time of the ceremony Hutchins was but 18 years of age. When the marriage license was issued Hutchins swore that he was 22, and his prospective bride, 24. Her maiden name was Ada C. Thomas.

INCORPORATION. Articles of incorporation of the Angel City Soap and Manufacturing Company were filed in the office of the County Clerk yesterday. The capital stock is $100,000, and the incorporators, H. E. White, C. W. Unger, Jr., W. E. Kinsey, C. H. Gorham and E. W. Kinsey.

TO SAN QUENTIN.—F. A. Shouse, who pleaded guilty to forgery and was sentenced to San Quentin for one year by Judge Davis, was taken North last night by Dr. Hart, employed at the County Jail. Mrs. Shouse, who has been with her husband almost constantly ever since his incarceration, made one of the party.

SUIT ON STOCK. The Santa Monica Bay Hospital brought suit yesterday against W. M. Kendall, to recover $500 alleged to be due on the purchase of five shares of its stock.

PAGE CASE DISMISSED.

The case of the People against Page was dismissed in Justice Pierce's court, yesterday. Winnifred Morris, the complaining witness alleged the defendant seduced her under promise of marriage. There was no evidence to substantiate her statement.

Spiritualistic Seance Before Justice Rose Ends in Victory for Mediums. Barber's Blarney Gets Him Into Serious Trouble With Wife and Police—Loyal Icemen Scrap.

Justice Rose held an all day seance with the spiritualists yesterday. The charges against the mediums proved to be as ethereal as are the departed persons they claim to communicate with, and the cases were thrown out of court.

The defendants were Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Dean, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Norcross and A. S. Prentice. The quintette was charged with practicing spiritualism without a license, and with conducting a meeting to which an entrance fee was charged without proper credentials from the city. The additional charge of violating the child labor law by employing little Helen Norcross was placed against Mr. and Mrs. Dean and Mr. and Mrs. Norcross.

The cases in which the five defendants were joined were conducted by Samuel Barnes Smith, first assistant deputy prosecuting attorney. Two policemen, who arrested the defendants at Burbank Hall, July 23, testified that they grasped the spirit hand playing a harp and found they had hold of the Norcross girl. Some of the cross-examination was interesting.

Twelve out of the thirteen complaints proved to be faultily drawn and the evidence was insufficient to support the other one.

Deserts His Babies.

Charges of deserting his wife and four small children, who are residing at No. 138 West Twenty-eighth street, were filed against George R. T. Paxton in Justice Williams's court yesterday. Paxton is said to now be in San José. The police expect the northern officers to arrest him soon.

Loyal at Least.

Glenn Sanders and J. Hogan were haled before Justice Williams yesterday, because they fought after an argument as to the merits of the ice companies by which they were employed. The specific charge was disturbing the peace.

Hogan pleaded guilty and a fine of

LITTLE, BUT DANGEROUS.

Husky Youth Accuses Diminutive Man With Threatening to Kill and Says He's "Scared."

"Were you scared at the time the defendant made the alleged threat to kill you?" inquired Attorney Rush of William Reyes in Justice Pierce's court yesterday.

"Yes I was," retorted the witness, glaring at the defendant, "and I am still scared."

The defendant, J. J. McGivern, is a diminutive man of middle age who appears to be afflicted with chronic heart trouble. It is alleged that while standing in the corridor of Judge Wilbur's courtroom, the 30 inst., he tried to intimidate Reyes, a husky youth.

At the time Susanna Botiller was being examined by the judge in regard to her habits, Mrs. McGivern, who had the custody of the child, stated the girl was incorrigible. Her husband was outside the courtroom. Reyes and other friends of the girl, were in the corridor.

Reyes told Justice Pierce that he was near the head of the stairs when the defendant approached him and said, "I'll kill you before the trial is over."

Attorney Rush says the charge is ridiculous in view of his client's infirmity, and the boyish strength of Reyes.

THE OIL INDUSTRY.

OPERATIONS AT BULLARD.

THEORY OF OIL BELT ON EAST SIDE OF VALLEY.

Western Consolidated Promoters Think Kern River Merely Southern End of Series of Fields Similar to Those of the West Side from Sunset to Coalinga.

The Western Consolidated of Los Angeles, that is drilling a wildcat at Bullard near Clovis, Fresno county, is down 100 feet. Its work so far has been in a dry surface and that gives much trouble by caving. Sixteen inch stovepipe casing has been used to get through this and a twelve and a half inch string just inserted which, it is expected, will be carried to 1000 feet or more.

The work is sixty miles from a well and oil is found in water wells nearby, according to reports from there. It is the theory of the promoters, J. V. Hoffman and G. E. Averill of Los Angeles, that there is a belt of petroleum running up the east side of the San Joaquin Valley from Kern River similar to the Sunset-Midway-McKittrick-Devil's Den-Coalinga belt on the west. This theory is a new one, so far, at least, as any prominence has been given it or any attempt made to demonstrate it.

Messrs. Averill and Hoffman say that Charles W. McCroesan has absolutely no connection with their company and never did have, despite reports to the contrary. Their land is about seven miles they say, from that regarding which the preacher-promoter advanced such ridiculous claims prior to his recent arrest in connection with an alleged mining swindle.

Southeast of Sunset.

The Bancroft-Wheeler Oil Company is drilling some twelve miles to the southeast of the Sunset field and that distance from any producing well. If successful, it will extend the belt that much and open a vista of great possibilities. The work of the Western Minerals, now controlled by Fred Ripley, John Baker, Jr., and others, will prove or disprove a lot of territory to the south and southeast of the old Sunset belt and between it and the Bancroft-Wheeler location. Some claim that indications of oil are found at points clear across the south end of the San Joaquin Valley. It is quite likely that they are; for, as a matter of fact, what may be construed as "oil indications" are found more or less at points all over the State.

Mascot's Operations.

The Mascot will perforate its No. 17 at Midway today. Its No. 14 is in the sand but has a fishing job. The rig for No. 15 is up. Number 18 is down 600 feet and in the sand. No. 19 is down close to 300. No. 16 was perforated last week at 975.

Sunset Water Wells.

The Mohawk-Sunset has succeeded in shutting the flow of water in its well by casing. It will drill further.

The Northern water gusher is still flowing and the company is selling it in immense quantities for field use. There is nothing in the reports that this water is unfit for use in boilers. Allen G. Nichols, editor of the Oil Industry, says it is like that of Occidental springs and excellent.

Porter Sails for Home

According to advices received here, W. S. Porter of the Associated was expected to sail for New York from Europe, where he has been some two months, on or before yesterday. The report says his health is much improved.

Land Sale at Templor.

A report coming from San Francisco and still unverified says that a sale of 20,000 acres at Templor has been made to San Francisco capitalists Some time since it was reported that Los Angeles people had bought the holdings of the Moses Hopkins estate in that region. The agent of the property, when asked, knew nothing of the sale and discredited it. The alleged representative of the buyers also denies all connection with or knowledge of the transaction. Whether the San Francisco story is a mere revival of this story is not ascertainable at present. It is decidedly important, if true.

FIND DIRT EXPENSIVE.

Fruit and Vegetable Dealer Must Pay for Ignoring the New Sanitary Food Law.

One dealer was fined $25 under the new sanitary food law, and the cases of several others were continued in Justice Ling's court, yesterday. W. F. Bascue of Long Beach, the convicted dealer, is said to have kept his fruits and vegetables exposed to the dirt and flies without any protection.

Frank Oakley, State inspector, visited Ocean Park, Santa Monica and Venice, several days ago, and a new crop of complaints followed.

He found that a number of dealers were paying no attention to the new law. He said fruit and vegetables were exposed to the sun, dust and flies, and that several witnesses took note of the circumstance.

While the better class of dealers are trying to observe the law, it is said that small dealers in fruit and candy are very lax in their methods of protecting their goods from dirt and disease.

PUBLIC SERVICE.

$10 was imposed. Sanders will be tried Friday.

The two men met in a saloon Tuesday night. After a few drinks they grew very loyal to their respective employers. The discussion grew so heated that it was necessary to use a beer glass to illustrate it. A chair was hurled back in answer. The two iceman then clinched and rolled into the street, where a police sergeant gathered them in.

Forfeits His Bail.

Harry J. Miller, former secretary of the Bohemia Club, failed to appear in Justice Chambers's court yesterday to answer a charge of violating the liquor law. His bail of $200 was declared forfeit, and a bench warrant for his arrest was issued.

Frank Haddock was accused of a similar offense, but the charge against him was dismissed. One of the prosecuting attorneys stated that a bill of sale was on record, showing that Haddock had disposed of his interest in the Bohemia Club before the police raided it.

In Need of License.

Five men were taken before Justice Williams yesterday for not having procured the proper licenses from the city for operating elevators. They were fined $5 each. The offenders were: W. Allen and H. D. Mull, Pacific Electric building; E. Shauble and H. S. Webb, Lankershim building, and J. E. Sloan, Temple Auditorium.

Barber's Blarney.

"He said such beautiful things.
"Then he took all my rings—"

These two lines of a popular song exactly express the charges made against D. W. Teo, a barber, who will be tried before Justice Williams today on a charge of battery preferred by his wife.

The police say he beat his wife and left her. While she waited at home for him, he was making love to another woman. The officers allege that he took the second woman's jewelry and sold it.

When the battery charge is disposed of, it is likely that he will be made to explain why he left his wife and also what right he had to the rings.

Gets Another Chance.

Justice Williams gave Lloyd Nance a chance to lead the life of a good citizen, when the young man was taken before him yesterday on a charge of stealing a bicycle. Nance was set free with a sentence of 180 days in the City Jail hanging over him. If his behavior is good the penalty will not be inflicted.

D. Francis and S. Kingsbaker paid fines of $25 each in Justice Williams's court yesterday for driving their automobiles too fast.

Justice Williams yesterday sentenced Frank Jenkins to serve twenty-five days in the workhouse for stealing a pair of old trousers.

THE POLITICAL WATCH TOWER

For the benefit of Uncle Aleck the recall bosses have organized a Kind Word Club. Its members are expressing their great respect for various other candidates mentioned as possible opponents to Uncle Aleck in his effort to retain the Mayor's seat. They are telling what great men the others are and how sorry they are they are tied up to the recall accident in this campaign.

The Kind Word Club is a subtle one, however, for it is the plan of the recall bosses to inspire as large a field as possible before the primaries in the hope of insuring Uncle Aleck running one-two in the preliminary heat. It is resistance to the inevitable concentration of the Republicans through a convention.

Your Uncle calculates that he will have about 14,000 votes, maybe more, to get first or second position. Against him there will be about 30,000 to 35,000 votes. If these votes should concentrate on another candidate, Your Uncle would see the distance flag drop in his face in the first heat.

Wouldn't it be awful if two other candidates beat the Mayor out? That is the danger the recall forces are now seeing and their game is to boost every other candidate they can, merely to divide the primary forces. It also indicates that the claim of 14,000 recall votes is pretty nearly whistling in a graveyard. The claim is based on the vote in the recall campaign, but it must be remembered that Alexander got 4000 or 5000 votes he would never have gotten, but for the fear that a Socialist would be elected. If it has been found that 10,000 is the top mark of the recall strength a division of the other legions is necessary to give him even a "look in," as the sports say.

The latest rumor about a Mayoralty candidate affects Webster Davis, the singing spellbinder from the Kaw River, or near it. Word was passed yesterday that he is likely to enter the arena. Now it is a fact that the recall set several weeks ago seriously discussed bringing out Davis because he could add spectacular effect to their campaign. At one of Uncle Aleck's meetings at Symphony Hall in the recall campaign "Web" spoke, preached, laughed, sang, recited poetry and enacted tragedy in a most moving manner. It was thought that this style of a campaign would distract attention from the real issue—Lissnerism—and jolly the voters. But the consideration of Davis came to the ears of Uncle Aleck and he planted himself in its way and Davis was dropped.

Talk of Perry W. Weidner was revived yesterday with many expressions of belief that he would consent to seek the Republican nomination. It was believed some time ago that his friends could not prevail on him to run, but some of them are now saying that he has about yielded. There is the same kind of talk about Willis H. Booth, president of the Chamber of Commerce, who has just returned from the East. I talked to Booth about his becoming a candidate, but he said he had not given it serious consideration and he would not act without advice from his many friends.

There is also talk that former Mayor Henry T. Hazzard may decide to become a candidate.

A meeting of the Latin-American Republican Club was held in the hall at No. 640 North Main street last night and resolutions indorsing the candidacy of former Councilman George A. Smith for Mayor were unanimously indorsed. The hall was crowded and there seemed to be plenty of Smith enthusiasm.

Antonio Orfila presided and spoke in French and Spanish. Other speakers were P. E. Pozzo, Rev. R. C. Nava, Eugene Gaffne, Barney Healy, Dr. Silas Austin and Frank Dominguez. The latter proposed the resolutions which recited how Smith had voted against the grab of the riverbed, how his management of the city finances in the Council had brought the first credit balance of $40,000 to the treasury and how he gained increased pay for the city laborers. The resolutions called on the 8000 Latin-American voters to support him in the primaries.

A meeting of the Third Ward Republican Club at 220 New High street last night found a large attendance and much enthusiasm for Republican party success in the coming campaign. President W. C. Fisher announced that fifty new members had been admitted during the past week and that hundreds more are expected in the next month. A feature of the meeting was the adoption of a resolution pledging the club not to indorse any candidate until after the Republican city advisory convention has made its choice. The club has not indorsed any candidate. Speeches were made by ex-Councilman R. A. Todd, A. J. Kopp, Frank Munson, Dr. J. V. Walden, Capt. F. W. Partridge, and W. E. McKee. The club plans to hold two or three other meetings soon and a large public rally at which many of the prominent candidates will speak.

A mass meeting under the auspices of the Ninth Ward Independent Political Club will be held at Korbel Hall, No. 1868 East First street next Monday evening. Many candidates have been invited to address the meeting. The Ninth Ward Independent Club was organized this week with Philip Serigan, president, and F. Renek, secretary.

The Sixth Ward Independent Political Club with I. L. Rubins, chairman, and J. L. Robinson, secretary, organized at 2210 Central avenue, this week, has also decided to call a mass meeting to consider municipal candidates.

Editorial Points

It is strange that prize fights are popular. They are seldom, if ever, fatal.

The aviators are demonstrating that an airship is vastly safer than an automobile.

Kansas is becoming so all-fired rich that she is in danger of ceasing to be interesting.

Comparing the airship and the automobile is the same as comparing Mercury himself with an ox cart.

When William Winter resigned the New York throne lost one of its greatest claims to distinction.

The splendid thing about the conquest of the air is that it is Americans who are the conquerors.

If President Taft eliminates politics from the census, how are our cities to make good their population claims?

A new religion called "Pragmatic Pantheism" has been invented. Needless to say, it was conceived in Boston.

There is a town on Long Island called Ronkonkoma. Imagine a drunken passenger-car brakeman trying to say it.

If the fight between Pinchot and Ballinger continues for awhile longer the country may find out what it is all about.

The malcontents of Mexico ought to know by this time that an attempt at revolution merely acts as a tonic on Gen. Diaz.

A New York woman 101 years old has never had her photograph taken. It is hardly worth her while to have it done now.

We are free to say that we haven't much use for the colored man who tries to make a living out of the Fifteenth Amendment.

It has been suggested that Bryan and La Follette combine to organize a new party. "The Outlandish" would be a good name for it.

A New Jersey woman was poisoned by counting money. Still there are women who will insist that they handle the household funds.

"New Liquor Issue in Alabama," says a headline. Alabama being a prohibition State, we don't think the liquor has any right to issue there.

We haven't counted the number of candidates for councilman-at-large lately, but we are assured that the number is at least sufficient.

Oliver and Cummins are certainly doing as much as any other team of politicians to help the Democrats carry the Middle West in 1912.

A new English society novel is entitled "The Long Gallery." We suppose it describes the place where the suffragettes strap themselves to the seats.

One of the Methodist bishops declares that he walked by 10,000 hells in Chicago." And his itinerary didn't include the stock-yards district, either.

Maxine Elliott will stop to think the matter over she will hardly be able to escape the conclusion that King Edward is as fickle as a king has a right to be.

It has not been what one might call an exciting baseball season in hardly any respect, although a Michigan mob chased an umpire two miles the other day.

When Gov. Harmon of Ohio comes to Los Angeles he will doubtless be the object of much curiosity. It isn't every year that Ohio exhibits a Democratic Governor.

The astronomers now have a list of 30,000,000 stars with which they keep up a more or less kindly acquaintance. Fortunately they are not electrical stars.

The day will come when South America will rival North America in wealth and progress, but even then there will be people who will prefer to associate with European society.

In seeking new men for the Weather Bureau, one duty it shall be to forecast the weather, the Government should be careful to select those who suffer either rheumatism or corns.

Mr. Bryan is, of course, willing to again become the Democratic candidate for President of the United States. He is willing to be a joke as long as there are press notices in it.

Elinor Glyn now says that a woman cannot tell whether or not to trust a man judging him either by his looks, age or station in life. It seems that she thinks we are all real devilish.

The opposition to British rule in India is growing stronger every day. If India were now to invade an airship we fear that the "mother country" would actually have a cataleptic fit.

Gen. Thomas S. Hutchison of Tennessee, who married a girl thirty minutes after he made her acquaintance, declares that it ought not to take any man more than thirty minutes to win a wife. It ought not, and usually it does not.

In an apostrophe to melancholy a New York poet says: "I know thou art the motif of the lilt." We offer one year's subscription to any man, woman or child in Los Angeles who can find the slightest meaning in this mystical outburst of poetic delirium.

MOTOR RACING.

Six lives lost on the Indianapolis motor speedway have been a terrible price to pay for lack of caution and greed for gold. Too late the promoters and officials are forced to remember that they had not completed the speedway, and that all precautions which reason should have demanded had not been taken. The law in the form of a coroner's investigation is bringing out the facts and they seem to show nothing less than criminal negligence.

The tragedies will either kill automobile racing or will save the game from further catastrophes. Auto speeding has been made the most dangerous sport in the world, even though surrounded by all possible precautions. Unless the track is prepared to the minutest detail, proper embankments built at the turns, and provisions made to keep the spectators from the immediate vicinity of the track, racing is extremely dangerous. The American Automobile Association, which asserts discretionary powers over the racing game, is as much to blame as the track promoters for last week's fatalities. No sanction for the races should have been given unless all conditions were safe.

As much as Americans hate to follow the lead of other nations, it would be wise in the instance of automobile racing to adopt the plans of the English and Germans. England's great track is cemented, banked high at the turns, walled on the outer rims, and carefully laid out over the entire course. Danger points are eliminated. The same is true in Germany's tracks, and in an exceptional accident, that recently occurred in a motorcycle race, the police immediately seized upon the track and builders and forcibly made the proper improvements.

The automobile men in Southern California, who control the racing game in this section, may well take a lesson from the Indianapolis affair. It is true that in the great Santa Monica road race there were no accidents, but they were expected before the race; and, looking back, it seems almost miraculous that no tragedies occurred. It was admitted that the Nevada-street turn was dangerous, and the attempted improvements were almost farcical. Among the dealers the sentiment is already strong in favor of conducting future events with the greatest of precautions. The Baldy race, which is to be run again September 19, seems absolutely foolhardy to cautious men, yet for three years there have been no accidents in this event. There are many brave men who fear to drive their machines over the course even at a moderate pace, and yet there are those who would race over the narrow, mountainous trail at top speed, with chasms thousands of feet deep yawning beside them not a foot from the wheels. There are no spectators, however, and the contestants take their own chances.

Auto racing to a moderate degree is considered a necessary escape for a certain flow of animal spirits and energy characteristic of the American people, which must have such a blow-off or find their outlet in evil ways, possibly. Football, boxing and even baseball may be classed in the same category. If these things serve as safety valves, let us have the governor wheels sufficiently heavy to prevent the waste of too much steam, and conduct these sports within the bounds of reason.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES.

Things look bright for all the world these harvest days, as the crops are being gathered all over the northern hemisphere. The past few months have done much to dissipate the anxiety felt for the peace of the world. It looks as if the rulers of the nations had at last seen that war is a thing which cannot be contemplated. The close alliances of the nations, the fact that no combination has a preponderance of force sufficient to defy the rest of mankind, and the unbearable cost of war have so sobered the minds of all that we may confidently hope to see a long period of comparative quiet.

The crops at almost all points are good, promising plenty to all people, with work for all in gathering them and distributing the surplus in one place to relieve scantiness in another.

The slackness in business operations for nearly two years has brought about scarcity in finished products, and the abundance of money at nearly all centers makes it easy to finance legitimate enterprises. Almost all kinds of manufactures are in light supply, demanding immediate action to prevent a famine here and there.

Population grows apace, calling for the development of wealth to keep pace with the needs of the world. New lands are being brought into bearing, and as the territory is settled up and made productive, transportation facilities have to be provided.

America is the center of the world, and here all these influences are felt working at their topmost power. Population grows more rapidly with us, our crops are largest, money most plenty with us. Wages are higher here than elsewhere, and profits larger. Our people consume more for each than in any other country. Stocks of goods are more nearly depleted. New territory is opened more abundantly and we need larger increases in our railroad mileage, in our cars and locomotive power. Cities grow faster, and new towns are built more rapidly. We have one of the largest populations among the most highly developed nations, and we use more each than others. We live in better houses, wear better clothes, travel more, enjoy more amusements, have more money and spend more of it. There is greater undeveloped wealth in our country than in almost any other, and we are developing this wealth more rapidly.

There are great projects going forward and others contemplated which will keep us busy, keep things moving and keep money in circulation. The completion of the Panama Canal will revolutionize the commerce of the world. The United States will gain much by this vast undertaking. Besides railroads, we are building wagon roads all over the country which will employ many, put much money in circulation and reduce the cost of transportation very greatly, thus adding to the profits of those who create material wealth, while reducing the cost to those who consume. We shall soon get to work improving the waterways of the country, and this will act along parallel lines with the building of roads, only it will be wider in scope and larger in its effects.

Look at matters from what angle we may, all views seem to promise an era of progress, an era of creating new wealth more rapidly than any in the past, however far we may go back. During all the past century wealth grew at a pace never before known, and the pace became faster year by year during all that 100 years. The same influences in larger volume and greater force are impelling us forward more rapidly than our fathers or grandfathers went. There will be 100 times more wealth created in the twentieth century than in the nineteenth. There will be more of this new wealth accumulated than ever before. In 1800 there was not one millionaire in the country, if there was one in the world. In 1850 there were few, if any, in America. At the earlier date $25,000 would have been looked upon as a large fortune in our country. At the later date few Americans were worth $100,000. By the end of the century there were many millionaires, some of them worth $100,000,000, a few much more. In those early days thousands of American families lived on a dollar or two a day. Farmers had only corn meal and pork for their daily ration, and not much pork. Those who became Presidents went to school in homespun clothes cut and made by their mothers. In 1850 a dollar a day was not bad wages, and farm hands worked by the year at $10 to $15 a month. As millionaires grew plentiful wages rose until mechanics get $3 to $10 a day, and unskilled labor is worth $2.50 per day and more.

As the new country goes forward millionaires will change to billionaires. As this transformation goes on wages and salaries will rise still higher. New mechanical devices will be in use by which a man can turn out more than now. A typesetting machine sets as many "ems" as three or more printers working by hand. The operator gets more pay than the one who used the composing stick. The more wealth a man creates the more he is worth. The more he makes the cheaper living will be, while he gets more to live on. Many will fall to accumulate wealth, but it will be because they spend all their larger income as they did the smaller receipts of other days.

Near home here we have all these forward movements in full blast. With the Panama Canal we shall have a wider market for all our products, at cheaper rates of transportation. We shall feed the East more with our winter garden stuff and fruits, and we shall feed Europe with our oranges and lemons. The Orient will open markets for products of iron, of cotton, of wool and leather. Our harbor will be full of commerce for all parts of the globe. The Owens River will be here and all the plains and valleys will yield increased crops of all kinds. Population, wealth and industries will all increase together. Property values in city and country will go higher and Los Angeles will be still a better place to live in than now. There are persons here now of moderate means, engaged in small enterprises, who will join the millionaire class and be featured in the papers as "captains of industry," "men of achievement," "leaders in great enterprises."

COST OF AERIAL NAVIGATION.

A German engineer, Dr. Eckener, finds that a dirigible balloon like that of Zeppelin, of about 20,000 cubic yards, will use 40,000 cubic yards of gas a month. The cost of this will be $1675, or by the year about $20,100.

A Zeppelin airship, it is calculated, might last four or five years; but, allowing for possible accidents, probably two years would be the average endurance of the machine. The cost of such an airship is $150,000, or at the rate of $75,000 a year. The crew will cost $7500 a year, station duties will amount to $6000 a year, the management of the machine $5000, and repairs about $7500. This gives us an annual cost for operating a Zeppelin airship of $122,000.

These conclusions were based on an average of 120 voyages a year, each to last twelve hours, so that the cost of such a voyage would be roundly $1000. Such a machine would carry not more than thirty persons. If we put the average number of passengers at twenty the cost for each for a journey of twelve hours will be $50. To allow for profits the company would be obliged to charge a fare of not less than $75.

It is not supposable that such a ship would average above a mile a minute, or sixty miles an hour, making for the twelve hours 720 miles. The cost would therefore be a little over 10 cents a mile.

Until the cost per passenger per mile is reduced a good deal the airship will not compete heavily with railroad trains or even steamships. An electric car will easily make half the speed attributed to the airship and the fares on this will amount to only about half a cent a mile where population is dense, and scarcely ever to over a cent a mile.

It still continues to appear as if the usefulness of the airship would be likely to be confined to warlike operations for some time to come.

THE GOLDEN SUMMER TIME.

Erin glories in her emerald vales, and Albion in her shady hedgerows. Japan has her cherry-blossom season, and France boasts of her early summer days when all the country is white with blooming orchards. But the season of beauty is short-lived in the lands that lie far out of the track of the sun for the greater portion of the year.

California is always bathed in beams of sunlight, and one season of delight follows another the whole year around. There is no season of gloom or of commonplace dullness with us. We are in these August days far from the months of rain when all the plains are as green as Erin, when all the landscape is as leafy as England, when the apricot and peach orchards are as bright as Japan with its cherry trees, as France with its wealth of fruit orchards. But what a fascination there is in the golden brown of the plains here in California! It is not easy to set out in words just what the charm is, but we all feel it in our inmost souls. Few of us were out of the city even for a few miles on last Tuesday who did not feel this indescribable appeal of the landscape and of the skies. How peacefully the sunlight slept on the brown hills! With what a loving, gentle, caressing effect the sunbeams touched the hills and fields! How gently the breezes played with the foliage, the "tresses of the woods," as might the fingers of a lover in the hair of a sweetheart! And all the time to the human heart a benediction seemed to come from everything in nature. The sunlight in shadow and sheen spoke peace to the heart; the sunbeams sent thrill after thrill of life coursing through every pulse. The winds played around one as if wafting health to his lungs at each inspiration. There was no languor in the tone of the day, no lethargy counseled repose, no exhaustion oppressed the spirit or the nerves. It was all repose, but full of life; it was all refreshment though impelling to gentle motion. The eye was as much delighted with the shadows of the pepper tree like lacework on the ground, or with the golden glow of the plain and hillside where sunbeam and breeze seemed to sleep together, as was the ear with the chirp of myriad insect life all around, with the song of the lark or the rustle of the leaves, or as the sense of feeling was with the warmth that brought no oppression.

This sense of peace, of quiet, of rest, of refreshment, of beauty, filled all the land and sky and sea. It reached the heart of the child at play, or of the aged person in repose behind some embowered lattice. The man on foot felt it as keenly as the one who passed him in a vehicle behind a horse which appeared to know how good California is to live in, or the other that swept by in a big touring car; and the passengers on the interurban cars lost not an infinitesimal part of the charm which was as broad as the sunlight, as all-pervading as the atmosphere.

THE TIME KEEPER.

HOROSCOPE.

Thursday, August 26, 1909.

Good cheer two radiant planets now bestow
Promising good for all things here below.

The sun and Venus are both in aspects favoring the better and finer sides of life, sending forth an influence toward gentleness, kindness, candor and honor.

They will fare best in these twenty-four hours who yield to these impulses and tendencies, even at the apparent cost of temporary material interest.

This configuration is held good for asking favors, especially from superiors, seeking employment and striving for advancement.

Traveling for health is under excellent omen.

Magistrates, judges and others who sit in high places should be well inclined and listen to petitions on this day.

It is a favorable time for courtship, engagements or weddings, and a propitious day to start housekeeping.

Invite, visit, seek amusement.

Shop. Deal with dressmakers and milliners. Undertake household experiments, make changes, bake, engage help.

Salespeople in retail shops, florists, perfumers, jewelers, decorators, caterers, employés of public transportation companies, musicians, singers, dancers and artists are under a good omen.

Employés should find the day profitable, both for completing their daily tasks and for developing new ideas or methods.

This is another good day to engage men for any work, great or small.

Those inclined to indulging appetites will need to curb their desires sharply. There is danger in dissipation today.

Women and men with this birthdate are likely to profit by seeking during the twelvemonth to aim at one thing consistently and bend all faculties toward its accomplishment. Their ruling sign makes them prone to scatter their efforts too much.

Children are born today with the promise of worldly success. They are likely to display an ungoverned temper, and care should be taken to train them to persistent effort.

UNCLE WALT. WARBLER.

BY UNCLE WALT MASON OF EMPORIA.
Where Grows the Sunflower.

The Great Detective had returned; he'd been some years away and I supposed that he was dead and sleeping 'neath the clay. Ah, ne'er shall I forget the joy it gave me thus to greet the king of all detectives in my rooms in Baker street! "I notice, Watson," Sherlock said, with smile serene and wide, "that since I left you, months ago, you've found yourself a bride." I had not spoken of the fact, so how did Sherlock know? I tumbled from my rocking chair, his knowledge jarred me so. "It's easy, Watson," said the sleuth; "deduction makes it plain; you ate an egg for breakfast and your chin still wears the stain; you haven't shaved for half a week—the stubble's growing blue—your pants are baggy at the knees, your necktie's on askew; your vest is buttoned crooked and your shirt is out of plumb, your hat has been in contact with a wad of chewing gum. You were something of a dandy in the good old days of yore—pass the dope, my dearest Watson; what's the use of saying more?"

When Mr. Taft comes to California he need not discuss the tariff. We are immensely pleased with the tariff in this State. Let him, instead, tell us what he thinks of our glorious climate.

Look wherever you will across the broad expanses of America and you will see people rushing to lay hold of land. The country is sane at last.

The difference between men and women is that it is only seldom that a drug store can sell anti-fat medicine to a man.

You may expect a call at any time from the promoter of the airship company. He is on his way.

sewing machine or to hire a dressmaker when the child can be taken directly to the store and fitted out with school dresses all ready to wear—at just about the cost of the bare material—and what a relief to the mother.

One tremendous advantage we have here over eastern cities, is that we enjoy an all-the-year-round climate that permits the wearing of summer weight goods for practically nine months in the year, hence the semi-annual clearance sales here mean a good three months' immediate wear of clothes bought at half price. Whereas, in the East, a linen, percale, chambray or gingham dress purchasd now could be worn but a few times before snow flew; here it is good for at least two months' steady wear—and many wear cotton shirt waists the year round.

The Beauty Bath.

The hardness of the water here almost necessitates some sort of softening element if one would keep a good complexion. There are several brands of bath powders and preparations on the market for this purpose. Some come in the form of cones, others in powders, and yet others in liquids. These impart a delicate aroma to the water, as well as softening it, and the skin retains a dainty fragrance for hours after the bath.

If only we could secure the moisture of these delightful night fogs we are now having, what complexions we would have! 'Twould be almost worth while to let these precious dews of heaven fall on our faces all night long as we sleep on our porch cots for the sake of the beauty bath it would afford.

Time to Buy Notions.

I observe that there is now going on in many of the big stores the regular quarterly sale of notions and dressmakers' supplies. Here is an opportunity which no mother of a family should miss. For instance, she can get thread, hooks and eyes, buttons and pins, dress shields and sewing silk at greatly reduced prices and in quantities——thread by the dozen or half dozen spools at a corresponding reduction—finishing braid in bolts at cost price, and all these staples which she is bound to need during the year.

For the College Girl.

One of the big stores is advertising a special line of furnishings for college rooms—rugs, curtains, blankets, etc.—to supply the boy or girl who is starting off to college. Even where the dormitories are furnished, it needs a touch of personality to make it seem like home, and a few yards of dainty madras for curtains, a pretty table cover, a sofa pillow or two, a book rack and an elderdown comfort may ward off an attack of homesickness.

There are some stunning sweaters displayed in local shop windows and what college girl's wardrobe is complete without a sweater? This new fall crop of sweaters shows every conceivable form, shape and color. Noticeable indeed, are the coats—quite three-quarters in length—and made in the same style as the cloth coats, with hip pockets, turn-over collars, etc. They are long in shape and long in price, $12 being the tag mark. For school girls, the shorter hip length is better in both style and price.

Where one must count the cost, a girl can get along with one good tailored suit, a one-piece cloth gown, and a separate cloth skirt with as many blouses as you can muster for regular school wear. A pretty lingerie frock for evening of fine mull simply made, which, on occasion may be worn over a silk slip of delicate color, is a good investment for the college girl who has to count her pennies. By varying the color of the under slip she can add variety to her evening appearance, having ribbons to match for hair and sash.

Good shoes add a lot to the appearance of the school girl who wears her skirts ankle length. Economize somewhere else, but get daughter good and perfectly fitting shoes if you would add to her trim appearance.

• •

Frocks and Frills.

Irish crochet buttons and lace appear as trimming upon some of the crepe-like tissues.

Raffia parasols edged with tiny balls are pretty accompaniment for pongee and linen frocks.

The shirtwaist or one-piece morning frock with a collar of itself is coming into its own again.

It is prophecied that the striped skirt and plain coat idea will last over into the autumn.

Trimmings just now are put on quite as much in the perpendicular treatment as in the round and round effects.

There has been a notable increase in the use of printed materials with the advance of the new foulard rage.

The military coat will be prominent in tailored suitings this fall. It will be slightly bloused and belted.

Old blue linen, with tucks and frills of white mull, is very attractive in any of the present-day models.

There is more and more talk about the revival of the sash, and it will probably be welcomed on its return.

Gen. A. J. Sampson of Phoenix, Ariz., late Envoy and Minister of the United States to Ecuador, South America, is visiting at No. 415 West Avenue 56. "Arizona is more than ever interested in Los Angeles since she has become a city with a deep harbor, and seeks for better trade relations and wishes her increased prosperity," said he yesterday. Gen. Sampson is one of the directors of the Board of Trade of Phoenix, and interested in mining and ranching.

Drying the hair in one's own back yard has its large compensations, for sun and air are as the breath of life to your tresses. A 10-cent package of shampooing powder dissolved in a pint of warm water, a brisk massaging of the scalp and thorough rinsing, and then a leisurely shaking and brushing of the hair in the sun and wind will work wonders.

If your face is badly burned, do not apply water to it, but give it a "cream bath" instead, to cleanse the exposed portions of the skin. One of the worst burned faces I ever saw was healed in a single night by the application of a mask covered thickly with cream. In the morning the redness had largely disappeared and with it the soreness. If you do not apply a mask, then anoint the face freely with the cream and gently massage it into the skin, working in as much as possible. Then wipe with absorbent cotton, and dust the face lightly with talcum powder.

Children's School Clothes.

'Tis the mothers of families who realize more than any one else, perhaps, unless it be the children themselves, what the end of vacation time means.

"We've just finished off thirty-six dresses," said the mother of six to me at the close of summer last year," enough to start the children in school at least."

I expressed my wonder at the large number of frocks required. "Oh, you've no idea how many wash dresses children can go through in a single week," she sighed.

I noticed in shop windows yesterday such beautiful gingham and chambray dresses for the little folks —from three to five years, say, at only $1 apiece. Splendidly made they were too—the remnant of the summer stock. There are quantities of bargains just now for mothers who have a houseful of children to clothe; and it is not worth while to spend hours at the sewing machine or to hire a dressmaker when the child can be taken directly to the store and fitted out with school dresses all ready to wear—at just about the cost of the bare material—and what a relief to the mother.

RECALL STIRS MUSS.

with the three "insurgent" members of the recall Board of Health, for they voted to ask the Council for a commission of five to take charge of the five district nurses of the Los Angeles College Settlement Association. The nurses have been under the control of the settlement workers and have been paid by the city. The association is willing to turn their work over to the city, but does not like Dr. Gibbons's plan to put the nurses under an assistant health officer. And Dr. Gibbons says that is what shall be done.

"A commission of five to direct the work of five plain nurses," said he, "seems absurd to me and it will never become a fact without a fight from me. And the Mayor agrees with me, too."

Now the other members of the board declare Dr. Gibbons is not the "whole works," and they say the majority shall rule. Which means that their stand for the commission will continue.

"What's the use, anyway," said Dr. Gibbons, "for one to give his time to such things without effect. Sometimes I feel like chucking the whole business."

Which is a real threat that Dr. Gibbons may resign.

But he should cheer up. Expressions from the members of the Council yesterday were to the effect that they will not put the nurses under a commission. If the settlement workers want to turn that form of relief work over to the city, the Council feels that Dr. Gibbons is right and the nurses will go under the Board of Health, as he asks.

The Mayor has not hurled any thunderbolt for some time, and may not in this family reunion, but it is hinted that, if the Council is foolish enough to put the nurses under a commission, he will veto the ordinance.

And if Uncle Aleck should do this it would start a regular row in the recall family as the "insurgents" have chips on their shoulders; and when Uncle Aleck gets his dander up the lightning may strike some one—or more.

END NOT YET.

NEW SENSATION IN SUTTON CASE.

ORDER FOR EXHUMING BODY IS SUDDENLY REVOKED.

Mother and Sister With Procession of Carriages and Flowers About to Start for Arlington Cemetery When Quartermaster of War Department Withdraws Permission.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] What Mrs. Sutton's friends consider the most extraordinary and inexplicable act yet linked with the Sutton case transpired today, when the quartermaster's office of the War Department, after granting Mrs. Sutton permission to have the body of her son exhumed, revoked the order just as the procession of carriages and flowers was about to start for the grave.

Mrs. Sutton, accompanied by Mrs. Rose Sutton Parker, the late Lieut. Sutton's sister, Dr. George Tully Vaughan, who was to be present at the examination, and a Catholic priest, who was to consecrate the ground where Lieut. Sutton was buried, were to leave for Arlington Cemetery at 12:30 o'clock.

About an hour before this time the quartermaster general's office called Mrs. Sutton on the telephone and informed her that the exhuming of Lieut. Sutton's body would have to be postponed on the ground that too much notoriety had been given the event.

CAPT. DOYEN WANTS INQUIRY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

ANNAPOLIS (Md.) Aug. 25.—Charles A. Doyen, the present commandant of marines, and the ranking officer at the Marine School when young James N. Sutton, jr., lost his life, has demanded an investigation of his conduct of the school at that time. Capt. Doyen, today went to Washington to see the Navy Department officials.

San Francisco Fire Chief in New York to Get Ideas for Fire Protection for Golden Gate City.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—New York's high water pressure system of protection was examined today by Patrick H. Shaughnessy, chief of the San Francisco fire department, who is here to get ideas for a similar system for the Golden Gate City.

Chief Shaughnessy said he wished to have the San Francisco system as much like what he saw as possible. One of the features of the new fire protection for which San Francisco has raised $5,000,000 in bonds, will be its concrete reservoirs to supply water in case of a break in the city mains.

SINCERE SORROW.

TEMPLE BAPTIST CHURCH PAYS TRIBUTE OF LOVE.

DESIROUS of placing on record in the archives of the church the genuine sorrow experienced over the sickness and resignation of the pastor, Rev. Dr. Robert J. Burdette, the congregation of Temple Baptist Church, after prayer meeting a week ago, appointed a committee to put the expression of this grief into words.

The committee, consisting of Mattison B. Jones, chairman, and W. R. Fowler, C. A. Baskerville, D. K. Edwards and C. C. Boynton, submitted the following resolutions, which were adopted unanimously by the congregation last night:

At a time vital to our beloved denomination, the Temple Baptist Church of Los Angeles, was, under the Providence of God, brought into being July 17, 1903, and in the birth of this new church the Lord gave as a leader a man unquestionably of his own choosing—Robert J. Burdette.

Dr. Burdette, since the organization of the Temple Church to the 13th inst., was the beloved pastor and leader of this people, at all times preaching the gospel of Jesus Christ in its simplicity and beauty, and with true allegiance, fidelity and loyalty to the Master was a loving and tender shepherd to this fold.

Under his loving ministration the Lord has greatly prospered this church in its matters temporal and spiritual, and by his gentleness, kindliness and wisdom our dear pastor has bound this people together in bonds of Christian love and harmony so that from a band of 200 we have become more than 1000.

In the providence of God this dear servant of the Lord has been physically afflicted, and in consequence of which has been impelled to resign the pastorate, and upon his urgent request, and in the interest of the church, the church has sorrowfully accepted his resignation in the hope, as he himself expressed it, that the relief from the cares and responsibilities of the church would aid in his recovery. In taking this regretted action the church simultaneously, and with unanimous vote, conferred upon Dr. Burdette the honorary title of pastor emeritus of the Temple Baptist Church.

Resolved, That while we are subdued under the shadow of the great loss of Dr. Burdette as our pastor, still we are encouraged under his inspiring counsel and, with the purpose of glorifying God, to go forth with the same spirit of loving unity which characterized this church during his shepherding to prove that in this organization of his "children" he who was to us as a father in Israel laid foundations for a monument to himself most worthy and enduring, and wrought here a work most highly honoring unto God.

Resolved, That Temple Church can best honor God and cherish the memory of Dr. Burdette as pastor and leader by making our position in Christian service, attained under his loving leadership, a stepping stone to a loftier and broader plane of Christian usefulness.

Resolved, That we commend to our Heavenly Father the pain-racked body of His servant to the end that He may speak "peace" and the pain "be still," and that He may restore him to health and great usefulness, for the "children" long to hear the footsteps of their spiritual father on the doorsteps of the Temple home.

Resolved, That with joyful hearts we attest our pastor's supreme loyalty to our Saviour, Jesus Christ. He ever preached "this same Jesus."

Hear his words:

"I believe the greatest theme on earth at this time is the study, the declaration and exaltation of the character and divinity of Jesus Christ, the Saviour of men, the Son of God the second person of the Trinity. There is that in the description and proclamation, the divine and human portraiture of Jesus, that awakens the sweetest interest in the human mind, the tenderest love in the human heart, and the profoundest reverence in the human soul. Jesus Christ and Him crucified and glorified, His humanity and His divinity—this be our theme."

To him love is the fulfillment of the law.

Hear him once again, as he prays: "Oh, Lord, we would reach one hand up to Thee, and one hand down to poor, fallen, struggling humanity, and thus draw each to the other."

"Love, and love alone, brought Jesus Christ from heaven to men, and only love can lift men to heaven."

And again hear him, as he lies on his bed of pain, pray:

"Master, will Thou bless the man who shall be my successor, and write his name in the palms of Thy hands so that Thou canst see it continually."

By the committee.

BETRAYS HEART TRUST.

she called her husband, and in whom she placed her trust, had at least one wife, and the police say they can find no record of a divorce from another.

The couple left the George home and went to the Westminster Hotel to reside. They were in the city as late as Monday, when they were seen by a detective, but at that time no complaint had been made to the police.

HONEYMOON PRETEXT.

It is thought that McMullen feared he would get in trouble and induced the girl to depart with him on the pretext of going on a honeymoon trip.

Mrs. McMullen, who was married under the name of Markham, grew anxious over the continued absence of her husband and began to make inquiries from the street-car company regarding him. There she learned he had drawn $90 due him in wages, Friday.

"My wife just died in El Paso," he remarked, sadly, as he resigned his position. "I want to go back to her funeral."

Later she learned he had drawn all of their money from the bank. She then took her troubles to the police. In a short time they ascertained that he had been a visitor at the George home, and went there to seek information about him.

To my Mr. and Mrs. George were astonished to learn their daughter had gone away with a married man, would be to put it mildly. They had fond hopes for the girl and decided she had done well in marrying McMullen, after they had forgiven the couple for the clandestine marriage.

MAY BE MOCK MARRIAGE.

The next step was to swear out complaints for McMullen, charging him with abandoning his wife and with abducting the girl. If he is arrested, a more serious charge may be placed against him for practicing fraud upon the young woman.

The police believe the couple have gone north and that McMullen intends getting work on a car line, as he took his uniform with him. They say Miss George would leave him instantly if she should gain knowledge of the deception he practiced on her.

McMullen's previous record is being looked into by the officers. He is said to have previously resided in Memphis, Tenn., his father being the superintendent of the Memphis Coffin Factory.

He met the wife now residing in Los Angeles in El Paso, Tex. She says he told her he had previously been married and divorced.

WIFE'S SAD STORY.

"We were married under the name of Markham," she told the attorneys when seeking a complaint against him. "He said his correct name was McMullen, but he did not dare use it as he had been in trouble in Memphis. He promised to marry me under the right name when it was safe to do so.

"He declared he had been compelled to leave Memphis suddenly because he had cut a man's head nearly off with an ax in a fight over his wife. He said he acted only in self-defense, but that it might be hard to show this. I believed him."

The police have sought to find a record of his divorce from his first wife, but have not been able to do so.

Owing to the aggravated circumstances, the police department is making extraordinary efforts to locate him, believing that an example should be made of him.

His description follows: Age, 31; height 5 feet 8 inches; weight, 128 pounds; medium complexion, smooth shaven, brown hair and gold-filled front teeth.

ENTERS ASAMA'S CRATER.

American Clergyman Astonishes Japanese by Daring Feat, Thought Impossible of Execution.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOKIO, Aug. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Prof. Jay Rodgers, president of the American University Union, who has been here lecturing on scientific evidences of Biblical truths, has accomplished a hazardous undertaking never before attempted. For the purpose of investigation he descended 100 feet into the crater of the active volcano Asama, using a chair and pulley worked through the assistance of several stalwart missionaries. The Japanese were astounded at the daring of the feat, which they had thought impossible of execution.

Asama volcano is about eighty miles northwest of Tokio. It is 8315 feet high and though it is still active its last great eruption took place in 1783.

OSWALD STORY DENIED.

ton was not in any way connected with Oswald. He said he was at the California Hospital, when Prosecuting Attorney Fleming came to see him in regard to the situation. Fleming wanted to do more than arrest a few inmates from time to time, and asked that an officer be detailed to assist him. Kern said he gave an order to Secretary Pendergast to have Sergt. McDowell report to Fleming for orders. A little later, Fleming succeeded in getting evidence against the landlady and two men connected with the notorious resort, and obtained convictions against all three.

Kern's direct examination will be continued this morning. So far his testimony has contradicted that of Oswald in every particular. Harper will also be called to refute the testimony of Oswald as to the alleged conspiracy.

Patrolman Earl Busse said he had seen Oswald in Capt. Broadhead's office, but that there had been no attempt at secrecy, as far as he could observe. He said he had arrested a number of women on Commercial street for soliciting.

Similar testimony was given by Officers W. M. Ingram, J. B. Owen, J. D. Talbot, B. N. Gamash, J. A. Mojonier, S. N. Sheets and E. C. McCann.

According to the testimony of Patrolman A. C. Berchtold, there were about 320 known disorderly women in the city in 1907. He said the number increased to about 500 in 1908.

He said there were many women in sections outside of Commercial street. According to his testimony, the policy of the Prosecuting Attorney was to get evidence against the landladies and owners of disorderly houses, rather than against the inmates.

Sergt. McDowell testified to a conversation he had with Oswald at Commercial and Alameda streets, in which Oswald had threatened to get even with Broadhead for closing his district.

Lieut. Williams said Oswald frequently called at the Police Station in connection with securing patrolmen for the boxing matches at McCarey's pavilion.

CITY IS CLEAN.

The prosecution drew admissions from nearly all of the police officers to the effect that they arrested disorderly women for soliciting and other conduct, and not because they were plying their trade. Several officers testified that they weekly examined the health certificates of the women.

The defense attempted to show that there were many places in operation in 1907 and 1908. Attorney Appel also offered to prove that there are places today in the residence districts. Evidence may be introduced later on this point.

Capt. Fredericks denied that there are any open houses in the city. "Of course there may be prostitutes; I do not deny that, but I affirm that there are no known disorderly houses in the city at the present time." He said the point at issue was whether Oswald controlled the Commercial-street district in 1907 and 1908 by reason of a secret compact with Harper, Schenck, Kern and Broadhead. He refused to admit that there have been any open and notorious houses of ill-fame in the city since August 20, 1908, when all the places were closed.

Lively Presentment of the Day's Interesting Happenings in Los Angeles County.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

PASADENA.

PRECEDENT IS ESTABLISHED.

Scale Problem in Altadena Now Settled.

Horticultural Board Gives Association Power.

New Hospital Building Wins Visitors' Praise.

Office of The Times, No. 78 S. Raymond Ave.

PASADENA, Aug. 25.—The Los Angeles County Board of Horticultural Commissioners yesterday granted the Altadena Improvement Association power to handle the scale problem in Altadena.

By so doing, a precedent has been established which will undoubtedly be taken advantage of by other associations in the county, as there is a great deal of unfavorable comment concerning the wholesale fumigation, spraying and trimming of trees that has been carried on.

Altadena citizens protested and held a meeting to devise a method whereby they might have some voice in the matter of the trimming of the trees and the expenditures for fumigating and spraying. They considered the $10,000 estimated cost for the work as practically money wasted.

Yesterday Chairman A. R. Meserve, Secretary Ervin Dingle and Inspector A. O. Smith of the Board of Horticultural Commissioners met in Altadena with a committee consisting of H. D. West, Ira Otterson, I. C. Goodrich, J. J. Mansar and Paul Hutchinson. It was decided to allow the Altadena association to oversee the work of cleaning out the scale and to leave it optional with property owners as to what trees should be treated.

The local inspector, however, in no way relinquishes his authority by law to compel the destruction of scale wherever it may be found, at the expense of the property owner, and if this matter is neglected in Altadena, then the horticultural board will become insistent.

Another meeting of the improvement association is to be held in the near future for the purpose of appointing a committee to arrange for looking after the scale question in the district and this committee will report to the commission.

CRITICISES CITY.

J. H. Holmes, who has recently returned from San Raphael Heights, criticises the action of the city in allowing municipal wires above ground in the center of the city, when the telephone companies are forced to put their wires underground at an expense of many thousand dollars.

Holmes has reopened his residence at No. 600 North Fair Oaks avenue, and Mrs. Holmes and Miss Angie Holmes have also returned to Pasadena. Temporarily Mr. Holmes has desk room in the office of the Home Telephone Company, of which he is vice-president.

He flatly denies the persistent rumor that he is to become manager of the Wentworth Hotel.

STREET BONDS QUESTIONED.

Edward Sydnor has taken up a fight against the ten-year city street bonds. He says that a receipt in full for street work assessed against his property, given to him by Contractor Kinsman, would be held in a court as a release of the lien against the property. In the instance in question, the street bond was also turned over to him by the contractor. Sydnor states that it is a negotiable paper, and has refused to release the bond for cancellation.

His interest in the matter is merely to show that the bond is seriously defective, and to that end he took the matter up with Mayor Earley, City Treasurer Munson, City Assessor Keiser and City Clerk Dyar yesterday.

He asserts that a mistake in the bond is that the option as to whether it may be paid in full or not rests with the holder of it. In other words, a man, if the holder so chooses, is compelled to pay 7 per cent. interest and meet regular payments for a period of ten years, even though he might prefer to settle the matter in one payment.

HOSPITAL INSPECTED.

Society displayed marked interest in the opening of the new Fowler Memorial building of the Pasadena Hospital yesterday afternoon, and between 2 and 5 o'clock several hundred Los Angeles and Pasadena people availed themselves of the opportunity to inspect this handsome administration building and the entire hospital.

Conspicuous among those greeting the guests were Mrs. Eldridge M. Fowler and Miss Kate Fowler, through whose generosity the new building was erected. It is in memory of the late Eldridge M. Fowler. Mrs. Fowler wore a simple afternoon costume of black, and Miss Fowler was becomingly gowned in a white-embroidered linen suit, with which she wore a black hat. Miss Anderson, superintendent of the hospital; Judge and Mrs. Henry W. Hiamroth, Judge and Mrs. C. J. Willetts, Dr. Henry B. Stehman, Mrs. George Hale, Mrs. Louis Mitchell and several of the officers of the institution assisted in receiving and entertaining visitors, and at the entrance were met by Dr. Henry Sherry.

Quantities of bamboo, Boston ferns and crepe myrtle were arranged in all bronze vases and jardinieres, and in the main reception hall and lobbies potted palms were used with fine effect. Throughout the hospital, bouquets of roses, daisies and garden flowers brightened the rooms.

White-capped, sweet-faced nurses showed guests about, and the attractiveness of the hospital, especially the artistic and complete furnishings of the new addition, called forth exclamations of pleasure from the most fastidious.

The Fowler memorial forms the center of the group of buildings which compose the hospital. A bronze tablet of unusual size is to find its place in the great entrance hall, and will bear the names of the donors and that of Eldridge M. Fowler. A large tile fireplace is the feature of the reception room.

SECURE EXTENSION.

Counsel representing Pomona's interests in the Sunset Telephone case have secured a twelve-day extension in which to file papers asking for a rehearing.

The motion was granted by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, which recently handed down a decision in favor of the Sunset. The legal departments of Pasadena, Pomona and Los Angeles are jointly planning to carry the issue to the Supreme Court of the United States.

"HELLO" BUILDING PLANNED.

Frank W. Healy, local manager of the Sunset company, states that plans are practically prepared for a new central building, to be located just east of the center of the city. The total investment, including the expense of the change, will be about $100,000.

Healy said yesterday that the plans would have been perfected sooner had the city not interfered with the company's business.

RANCHMAN DROPS DEAD.

James Nimick, a ranchman, who lived at the corner of Piedmont Drive and Lincoln avenue, Altadena, dropped dead, yesterday morning. One year ago, he suffered a severe illness. Yesterday morning, he got up from his bed to dress himself and suddenly fell back upon the bed dead. He leaves a widow and one daughter, living in Los Angeles. He was 51 years old.

Immediately after the parade, a complimentary ball will be given at the Armory in honor of the department commander and other officers and delegates to the encampment. All organizations participating in the parade will be invited to attend.

PASADENA NEWS NOTES.

R. B. Spear has brought suit against J. Whiting for payment of a check of $50 upon which Whiting, it is alleged, stopped payment. Spear has retained J. G. Rossiter to represent him. The suit is a result of Whiting's refusal to keep a cow which he had bought from Spear.

The funeral of Mrs. Eliza Allison, the philanthropist who gave the site of the First Baptist Church, was held at that edifice yesterday afternoon. Dr. Albert Hatcher Smith, pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. C. H. Hebart, former pastor, officiated. The body will be taken to Saginaw, Mich., today.

Six hundred and seventy-nine desks for the new Thomas Jefferson and Grover Cleveland school houses arrived yesterday morning.

"TUNNEL DAY" PREPARATIONS.

LARGE RECEPTION PLANNED BY BOARD OF TRADE.

Several Thousand Invitations to Be Issued—Members of Woman's Club Will Assist at Function—Popular Society Girl Weds a Los Angeles Architect.

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 25.—Preparations are under way for the "Tunnel Day" celebration planned by the Board of Trade. The date upon which the tunnel will be formally opened has not been definitely set but officials of the Los Angeles-Pacific have assured the committee in charge of the celebration that it will be early in September.

It is proposed to hold a reception, for which several thousand invitations will be issued, on the grounds of the Paul de Longpre home. The Board of Trade will be assisted by the members of the Woman's Club.

MORGAN-WALKER WEDDING.

The marriage of Miss Jessie Morgan, a popular society girl of this city, to Robert R. Walker, a Los Angeles architect, took place, this evening, at the residence of Mrs. J. W. Morgan, on Wilcox avenue. Relatives only witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. George Cornell. The bride's gown was an imported creation of hand embroidered Brussels net over taffeta, with sweeping train. She wore a long veil and her flowers were white asters. She walked to the alter alone through the drawing-room and reception hall, and then through the room in which the ceremony was performed. Mrs. Horace Candee played the wedding march. After a supper, Mr. and Mrs. Walker left for a week's trip. They will make their home in Hollywood. Mrs. Walker is one of the leading contraltos of this city and was a pupil of William Shakespeare.

REDONDO BEACH, Aug. 25.—Paul C. Brown, field secretary of the State Christian Endeavor Society Union, addressed a large congregation last evening at the Congregational Church, where the "Retreat" is in progress. Mr. Brown took for his subject: "The Life of Full Surrender." This morning, Rev. J. M. Campbell of Sierra Madre, led the meeting, the topic being "Thy Kingdom Come." F. Aylwood of the Volunteers of America of Los Angeles, talked this afternoon on "Lord, Lead and Save Us." LONG BEACH.

REORGANIZING SAVINGS BANK.

CITIZENS' STOCKHOLDERS ELECT BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

First Call for a Ten Per Cent. Assessment Called Issued—Picnic of Employees of Pacific Electric's Mechanical Department—Country Club Plans.

LONG BEACH, Aug. 25.—The stockholders of the Citizens' Savings Bank, which is to re-opened by order of the court, held a meeting, last night, at which 3700 of the 5000 shares were represented.

The directors elected are C. E. Huntington, C. J. Walker, E. L. Wingard, W. W. Low, W. P. L. Stafford, C. H. Brunn, H. S. Callahan, D. M. Cate, J. E. Daly, C. J. Daugherty, F. C. Farrow, J. W. Shafer, J. H. Robinson, W. R. Price, E. R. Millar, J. E. Counts and S. C. Peasley.

The bylaws were amended in accordance with the new banking law. The directors will meet, tomorrow night, to elect officers. It is generally understood that Frank McCutchen will be chosen president.

The first call for a 10 per cent. assessment on the stock has been issued. The reorganized bank will probably occupy quarters in the old Bank of Commerce building.

RAILWAY EMPLOYEES PICNIC.

One of the jolliest picnic parties that ever visited the beach came here, today. It consisted of 1700 employes of the mechanical department of the Pacific Electric, their wives, daughters and sweethearts. They were brought to the city in four-car trains and at once took possession. The mechanical department has its own band and orchestra, and the band led the march of the baseball teams and their friends to the High School campus, this morning. The orchestra played for the afternoon dance in the auditorium.

The ball game was between the electricians and the machinists and was won by the latter by a score of 14 to 2. Up to the sixth inning, the score was a tie, but the electricians evidently received a shock for they "fell down" badly.

Many of the picnickers took a boat ride to San Pedro and others went to Portuguese Bend, but the most of them were content to stay on the beach. A basket dinner was enjoyed on the lower deck of the auditorium.

This afternoon the crowd gathered on Cedar avenue, where a programme of sports was carried out. With prizes for the winners.

COUNTRY CLUB SITE.

The promoters of the Country Club are now really to decide upon a site. Col. Charles R. Drake, A. M. Goodhue, C. J. Curtis, Carl Stanley and William Bentley, a Riverside man of wealth, today spent several hours inspecting a suggested site on the property of the Alamitos Water Company, between the Huntington Beach car line and Anaheim Road. There are about 250 acres of land, including splendid trees, a lake and other natural attractions. The water company has offered a ten-year-lease, but the club people desire a twenty-year rental. Should the site be selected, the Pacific Electric will be bonused, to extend its Redondo avenue line to the property. The committee has also under consideration a site near Dominguez, as well as the old Bixby ranch at Cerritos.

Fifteen miles of cable and another carload of conduit material arrived, today, for the Sunset Telephone Company, to be used in the $50,000 extension of its system.

SERGEANT RESIGNS.

At a meeting of the Police Commission, yesterday afternoon, Sergt. Phillips tendered his resignation from the police force and it was accepted. Phillips voluntarily surrendered his star, two weeks ago, when arrested on a charge of having mistreated a 17-year-old girl. His successor was not named, but it is understood that acting Sergeant John Gallemere is the only officer eligible under civil service.

While endeavoring to repair some defect in the mechanism of the engine-room at the Sunset oil refinery in the west end of town, A. W. Rhoades, the engineer, was burned severely on the hands, arms and face. He will recover.

SHOCKED BY SHARK.

James Harvey caught an electric shark, last night, and was so shocked while gaffing it that he fell over in his boat and narrowly missed going overboard. The shark weighed thirty-eight pounds and is the first specimen caught in a year.

The wooden drawbridge over Cerritos slough, used only when shipments are made from the salt works, is novel in that it requires a switch engine and the services of a gang of men to operate it. When the engine approaches the bridge with cars, the draw is swung around by means of a cable which the engine pulls, while the men make the connections.

Word was received here, today, that the sawmill and lumber yard at Buttersville, Mich., belonging to the Butters family of this city, had been destroyed by fire. The mill cost $200,000.

Bids will be opened on September 8 for the five-story apartment hotel to be built on the bluff west of the depot pavilion. The building will be of pressed brick, 38x72 feet, and contain fifty-two rooms, with a dining hall on the first floor.

ANOTHER WAVE MOTOR.

J. A. Tannehill has applied to the Board of Public Works for permission to install under the pier a model of a new wave motor he has invented. It is a set of tub-like contrivances which are alternately filled with and emptied of water by the waves and in the bottom of which are valves by which the power is generated.

George H. Riddell died, last night, at his home on East Eighth street. Mr. Riddell was a native of New York and 76 years of age. He leaves a widow and three children.

POMONA, Aug. 25.—City Clerk Trotter is advertising for bids for the sale of the nine old houses, the location of the new City Hall, on block 65. All bids must be filed by September 13, and the houses must be removed by October 13. The funds received from the sale will go toward the City Hall furnishings, which will cost $30,000.

R. K. Fritz, of the local Fraternal Brotherhood Lodge, will have charge of the sports upon the occasion of the annual picnic of the order at Urbita Springs, on September 3. The Seventh Regiment Band will furnish the music.

When the State Bank of Pomona removes to its new quarters at the corner of Second street and Garey avenue, the old building will be fitted up by Sherrod Bros., recently of New York City, as a dry goods store.

Loud & Gerling, the dried fruit firm, are shipping twenty carloads of dried apricots.

Rev. Joseph Nunan of St. Joseph's Catholic Church is at the Seattle Exposition.

"ADMISSION DAY" EVENTS.

Interesting Programme Arranged at Santa Monica—Battleships Expected.

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 25.—Entries for the swimming and boat races to be held here on Admission Day, in connection with the formal dedication of the new municipal pier, are to close September 4. The fleet of battleships is expected to arrive on the evening of September 8, and the dedicatory exercises are being so arranged that visitors to the beach may go aboard the defenders during the morning hours without missing any of the events of the day. Mayors and members of the Councils from cities throughout the southern end of the State will be in attendance, as will also delegations from many chambers of commerce and boards of trade. The guests are to be entertained at luncheon at the Elk Clubhouse, Mayor Dudley acting as toastmaster.

PRISONERS ARE BUILDING ROAD.

COUNTY JAIL'S INMATES PUT TO PRACTICAL USE.

Enjoy Change from Monotony of Confinement and Are Doing Excellent Work on Boulevard Through Wolfskill Ranch, Which Will Be Open to Public by October.

SAWTELLE, Aug. 25.—Convict labor is utilized by the Supervisors in building the county boulevard through the Wolfskill ranch. This road is to extend from Beverly to Sawtelle. It parallels the double tracks of the Los Angeles-Pacific and is in fact an extension of Oregon avenue from the seaside. At Beverly it will connect with Wilshire boulevard and will afford a direct and short route into Los Angeles from the sea.

The County Jail prisoners are brought from the city every morning and labor all day on the road. The opportunity for a change from the monotony of confinement is appreciated by them and good work is the result.

Supervisor Eldridge, in whose district this section of roadway lies, has ordered the oil for its paving. It will be opened to the public by October 1.

FREMONT-AVENUE PROJECT.

Activity today on the part of Santa Monicans interested in the opening and widening of Fremont avenue from the sea to the east line of Sawtelle, with the view to extending the boulevard through to meet the projection of Pico street westward, will probably result in the decision of the Supervisors to call a halt in the proposed abandonment of the streets dedicated years ago through Sunset tract of the Wolskill rancho. Proceedings for the vacation of these streets are pending, and it had just about been decided to give up the dedicated streets when along came the Santa Monica boulevard project, and it was discovered that one of the streets is essential to the carrying out of the project. Should it not be possible to secure rights of way as desired for the proposed road through to connection with Pico street, it is believed that it is practicable to build to a connection with the Wilshire boulevard in the vicinity of Beverly.

VENICE.

VENICE, Aug. 25.—The theft of an automobile from the public highway was accomplished here today. The machine belongs to J. Fairbank of East Hollywood.

Once more there is talk of razing Midway Plaisance to make room for a more direct route of entrance for automobiles and vehicles into Venice. The amusement feature has never "made good" financially, and the disposition seems to be to send no more good money after bad.

The beach is awaiting the coming of the Hassayampa Club tomorrow.

TRUSTEES' LAST SESSION.

Wilmington Board Fixes Tax Rate Before Going Out of Existence. Wharf Privileges Granted.

WILMINGTON, Aug. 25.—The final session of the Trustees was held last night. An ordinance was introduced fixing the tax levy at 40 cents on the $100 for the general fund, and 45 cents for the municipal bond fund.

A resolution was offered setting aside $200 from the balance in the treasury, which is to be turned over to Los Angeles, to be used for advertising purposes. This evoked considerable heated discussion, and was finally denied, on the ground that under the charter of a city of the seventh class such a donation would be illegal.

The Consolidated Lumber Company and W. T. Wheatley were awarded franchise for wharf privileges on the channel which has been constructed by them.

BUILDING LUMBER MILL.

The Pacific lumber mill has the frame work of its new building completed. This is to be a structure 300 feet in length and 200 feet wide. The machinery for the plant is now on the ground, and it is expected that active operations will be begun at an early date.

It is rumored that the Wood Lumber Company of San Pedro has signed with the Consolidated Lumber Company for a site on its channel, and will move over in a short time.

TROPICO.

TROPICO, Aug. 25.—A lighting district, composed of part of North Glendale, West Glendale and Tropico was unanimously favored at the polls, this afternoon.

BIG DEALS BY BANKERS.

Portion of Famous Ranch Purchased for Home at Thousand Dollars an Acre.

Jonathan S. Dodge, president of the First National Bank of South Pasadena, has sold to F. E. Edwards, vice-president of the Bank of Southern California, seventy-one and a half acres on White Oak Drive, the consideration being $71,500, or $1000 an acre. The purchase is a portion of the original Chapman ranch. The deal was made through Giles & Kells, managers of the house and lot department of the Wright & Callender Company. Mr. Edwards will improve the property with a magnificent country residence, which he will occupy as his home.

Through the same agency Mr. Edwards sold to Mr. Dodge the property at No. 2415 Western avenue. The lot, which is 200x210 feet, is improved with a beautiful dwelling, and elaborately gardened. The price paid was $64,000. Mr. Dodge will make the place his home.

GIRL IS MISSING.

Wanders Away from Home While Temporarily Out of Her Mind, and Disappears.

Miss Ines Dryden, 19 years old, is missing from her home on South Hope street, and although her father and mother and the police have searched for her no trace of the young woman has been found. Meanwhile her father, E. E. Dryden, is camping beside the telephone at his store, at No. 712 South Broadway, hoping some one will call up F8317 and tell him his daughter has been found.

Her parents assert that Ines has wandered away while temporarily out of her mind. Recently she broke down from overstudy and was forced to leave the preparatory school at Mt. Vernon University, Washington, D. C. About two months ago she fell from the second-story window of her home on Hope street, and injured her head. Since then she has had to be watched, at times, but slipped out of the house Tuesday morning without her hat and has not been seen since by any one who knows her.
